CHAMBERLAIN GIVES WARNING ALONG WITH OFFER OF FRIENDSHIP

War Materials Pouring Out of British Factories—Threat to Nobody, but Strength Enough Now Achieved to Maintain All Rights and Liberties Against Any Rash Attackers

BLACKBURN, England, Feb. 22 (CP).—Prime Minister Chamberlain, using Shakespearean verse to express his confidence, tonight offered to win Germany's friendship with trade, but warned that Great Britain is strong enough "to maintain her rights and liberties against any who might be rash enough to attack them."

Speaking to Conservative Party members in this Lancashire cotton-mill town, the Prime Minister said war materials now are "pouring" out of British factories, and added, "We may well feel that, to quote from our own Shakespeare:

"'Come the three corners of the world in arms, and we shall shock them.'"

Mr. Chamberlain qualified his quotation from "King John," however, with the remark: "I do not speak these words in any boastful, still less in any aggressive, spirit.

THREAT TO NONE

"Our armaments threaten no one, nor have we any thought of anything but friendliness to any people in the world."

Pointing out that Oliver Stanley, President of the Board of Trade, is going to Berlin as head of a British trade mission, Mr. Chamberlain suggested "the way of trade . . . may turn out to be the best and quickest way of bringing about a better understanding between our two countries."

Reliable sources said Mr. Cham-

REPUBLIC NOT OUT OF DANGER

Czecho-Slovakia's Minister Says Good Relations With Germany Indispensable

PRAGUE, Feb. 22 (AP).—Frantisek Chvalkovsky, Czecho-Slovak Foreign Minister, declared today his country's German minority problem had not yet disappeared and the republic was "not out of danger."

Emphasizing good relations with Germany were "indispensable," Chvalkovsky told a meeting of secretaries and editors of the Government National Unity party that Czecho-Slovakia could not "weather a second crisis."

"The Germans will have no special privileges, but also no fewer rights than the Czechs themselves," Chvalkovsky said. "If Germans here acknowledge National Socialist Weltanschauung (world philosophy) then we shall put no obstacles in their way.

EXPENSIVE DELAY

"The delay in solving our minority problems cost us a third of our territory and much more than a third of our national wealth.

"Toward the German minority we will maintain an attitude of absolute correctness, benevolence and tact . . .

"Our aim is clear. We want to retain the present extent of our territory and our national independence."

(Fritz Kundt, leader of the estimated 500,000 Germans remaining in Czecho-Slovakia, in a recent speech complained of discriminations and warned that apparently Czecho-Slovakia had not learned the "lessons of 1938.")

Giant Plane Takes Off on Ocean Flight

TREASURE ISLAND, Calif., Feb. 22 (AP). — A seventy-four-passenger "super clipper" soared out of the Golden Gate today and headed for China to inaugurate something approaching mass transportation in ocean flying. A crowd of 75,000 Golden Gate Exposition visitors saw the take-off.

She carried eleven observers and a crew of twelve, in addition to mail and express, but no regular paying passengers. Her first flight to Macao and return was destined to be a shake-down cruise.

CONFERENCES NEARING END

Final Effort to Be Made Today to Settle Problem Of Palestine

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP-Havas)—The London conferences on Palestine appeared headed for collapse tonight, and the British Government stood ready to thrust its own solution on both Jews and Arabs.

A final effort to resolve opposing points of view will be made tomorrow when representatives of the two racial groups—but not Palestine Arabs—will sit at the same conference table for the first time.

Malcolm MacDonald, Colonial Secretary, will attend for Great Britain, it was officially announced. Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, will represent the Jews. Delegates from Iraq and Egypt will act for the Arabs.

REFUSE TO TAKE PART

Arab delegates from Palestine itself were invited, but stood by their steadfast refusal to take part in any consultations attended by Jews.

The Iraq and Egyptian delegates made it plain that their presence must in no way be regarded as prejudicing their future attitude toward the Jewish national home.

Hints of the British solution to be applied if the disputants remain adamant were gained from the weekly Cabinet session today. Prime Minister Chamberlain and his aides were understood to have decided abandonment of the British mandate

FISHERIES ISSUE STILL UNSETTLED

Russia Warns Japan Against Sending Fleet to Aid Fishermen In Dispute

MOSCOW, Feb. 22 (AP).—Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff and the Japanese Ambassador, Shigenori Togo, discussed their Far Eastern fisheries dispute for two hours today but appeared as far removed from a settlement as ever.

Litvinoff was reported to have told the Ambassador information in Japanese newspapers appeared to indicate the Japanese fleet was planning to help Japanese fishermen take what they want in Siberian waters.

He was said to have warned such an attempt would be dangerous and would "not be localized" as was the Changkufeng incident of last August.

Togo was said to have replied the Japanese Government "will take all necessary measures to protect Japanese interests."

Governor Inspects Fishermen's Reserve

YESTERDAY the two hundred men who have been training at Esquimalt for special service on the British Columbia coast, were inspected at the Naval Dockyard by Lieutenant-Governor Eric W. Hamber. His Honor was accompanied by Lieut.-Commander C. E. M. Donaldson, R.C.N.V.R., naval aide, and was escorted by Captain Victor Brodeur, R.C.N.; Commander R. I. Agnew, R.C.N.; Lieut.-Commander F. G. Hart, R.C.N.; Lieut.-Commander C. D. Donald, R.C.N., and Paymaster Lieut.-Commander Jarvis McLeod, registrar of the Fishermen's Reserve. In the picture His Honor is seen chatting to one of the skippers as he shakes his hand. At left is Lieut.-Commander Donaldson, next to him is Lieut.-Commander Donald, while behind are Captain Brodeur and Lieut.-Commander Hart.

FRENCH ARMY CHIEFS MEET

Troop Movements in North Africa Cause Uneasiness In Two Camps

ALGIERS, Algeria, Feb. 22 (AP). — Chiefs of France's armed forces in Africa met in extraordinary conference here today, following reinforcements of Italian troops in Libya.

General August Nogues, co-ordinator of French African forces, which number some 100,000 men, planned to fly to Paris immediately after the meeting to report to Premier Daladier.

The urgent meeting was a sequel to persistent reports of a clash between French and Italian troops in Southeastern Tunisia. Both the French resident general, Erik Labonne, and the Italian Consulate General in Tunis denied any clash occurred.

REPORTS OF CLASH

(Reports received in Paris diplomatic circles and through private channels from Tunis said eighty Italians and four Frenchmen were killed last Friday on the Tunisia-Libyan border when Italian troops penetrated French territory from Libya and were driven back.)

Reinforcement of Italian troops in Libya to a total of some 60,000, coupled with the presence there of Marshal Pietro Badoglio, chief of the Italian general staff, brought precautionary measures by the French army in Tunisia.

READY TO MARCH

Troops throughout the protectorate, object of Fascist colonial agitation, were reported to have been confined to their barracks, ready to march at a moment's notice. Several contingents were said to have been sent to the fortified zone near the Libyan frontier.

Arrests of Italians charged with espionage continued in Tunis. An official of the Italian Consulate General, named Spada, was arrested and reports circulated that a map of Tunisia's defences was found on him.

BENGAL'S GOVERNOR DIES

CALCUTTA, Feb. 23 (AP). — Lord Brabourne, forty-three, Governor of Bengal, died today following an internal operation performed last Saturday.

Tentative Plans For Royal Visit Made by Mayor

Committees Are Appointed to Arrange Details of Processions and Ceremonies—Children's Rally Suggested at Macdonald Park—Programme Subject to Approval of Authorities

A TENTATIVE programme of processions and ceremonies, arranged by the City Council for the visit of Their Majesties the King and Queen to Victoria at the end of May, was made public for the first time last night by Mayor Andrew McGavin, at a largely-attended meeting of representatives of municipal councils, school boards, and many other organizations interested in the preparations for the Royal visit.

It was made clear, however, that whatever arrangements are made must be approved in Ottawa, and that the tentative programme prepared by the city is subject to alteration. No times for the various ceremonies were fixed, as these will be named by the authorities.

Mayor Andrew McGavin, as chairman of last night's meeting, held in the City Hall, explained that arrangements for the Royal visit are mainly in the hands of the Provincial Government authorities. The City Council had submitted certain plans to the Government, giving a suggested route for the procession, and had been requested to lengthen the route very considerably.

At present, so far as the city was concerned, it was understood that Their Majesties would call at the City Hall on the morning of May 30, and at the Legislative Buildings in the afternoon, the Mayor said. The

THINK INCIDENT IS LOCALIZED

Hongkong Officials Believe Bombing Directed Against Chinese Guerrillas

HONGKONG, Feb. 22 (AP).—Officials of this British Crown colony were inclined tonight to characterize as a "localized incident" the bombing of a railroad station within British territory by Japanese warplanes yesterday. Nine persons, including a British Indian policeman, were killed.

The officials did not minimize the seriousness of the episode, which provoked a vigorous British protest in Tokio, but their investigations tended to show the bombing primarily was planned to drive Chinese guerrillas from districts adjoining Hongkong and to force leaders of the Chinese villages to aid the Japanese in establishing Japanese-sponsored governments.

Leaflets announcing such intentions were said to have been dropped from Japanese planes in the area several days ago. It was announced that no additional British soldiers were being sent to the borders.

RECOGNIZED BY THIRTY NATIONS

Turkey the Last to Accord Full Recognition to General Franco's Regime

BURGOS, Spain, Feb. 22 (AP). — General Franco's Nationalist regime announced today Turkey had accorded it full recognition, making a total of thirty nations which have granted either practical or legal recognition.

Great Britain, France, the Balkan and South American countries are expected to give full recognition by March 1. It was admitted the United States might withhold recognition for some time.

Famous Engineer Dies in England

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, England, Feb. 22 (AP).—Henry Louis, eighty-five, a world-famous mining engineer, died today at his home. FIX DATES FOR B.C. FESTIVAL

Provincial Drama Week Will Be Observed in Victoria From Nov. 13 to 19

Encouraged by the number of Little Theatres, Players' Guilds and other drama groups throughout British Columbia, which now number over 170 and which have all sought affiliation with the Provincial Drama Association, the executive committee is planning for a larger and better Festival than ever before. This will be held during the week of November 13-19 in Victoria. The executive, in session here last night, recommended that the Pacific drama conference if possible be held in Victoria during the week of the Festival.

The Provincial Festival will be the climax of the eleventh district Festival now organized as part of the work of the provincial association. Owing to the interest recently shown in puppetry, the association decided to hold a puppet play contest in conjunction with the Drama Festival and several organizations have already expressed their desire to enter.

During the evening a satisfactory financial report was submitted by the honorary treasurer, H. G. Hinton, C.A.

ACTION ENDORSED

The executive made a motion which heartily supported the action of the Department of Education in forming the British Columbia School Drama Guild.

The applications of the following clubs for affiliation were accepted by the executive: The Bandbox Players of Powell River; Fanny Bay Dramatic Society; Progressive Arts

West Coast Logging Expansion Bringing New Business Here

Marked Increase in Timber Industry Noted in Southwest Section of Vancouver Island—Methods Changed to Overcome Hazards of Rafting

By F. M. KELLY

VICTORIA business concerns catering to the requirements of logging operators and their employees are profiting considerably at the present time from the development of the logging industry throughout the southwest section of Vancouver Island, R. W. Hibberson, president of Ryan-Hibberson Timber Company, Ltd., forest engineers, stated in an interview yesterday.

This area, roughly situated between Jordan River and Cape Beale and extending inland for some distance towards Cowichan and Shawnigan Lakes, is naturally tributary to Victoria. While the major part of the logging carried on is in the hands of Victorians, operators of "shows" controlled by outside interests also appreciate the advantages of purchasing their needs locally.

Always looked on by logging operators as an area presenting difficult problems in the economic production of mill-grade timber, the growing demand for Island soft woods, principally fir and spruce, the thinning out of timber-growing areas easily reached from the more protected eastern slope of the Island is probably the real reason for the increasing number of operations. Magnificent stands of fir and spruce

STRANGE MESSAGE SENDS SHIPS ON HUNT FOR TORPEDOED CRAFT

Unnamed Vessel Sends Out Call for Aid Reporting Attack by Submarine of Unknown Nationality—Appeal States Ship Sinking 360 Miles South of the Azores

Empress of Australia Finds No Wreckage at Given Point

CHATHAM, Mass., Feb. 22 (AP).—Government officials and shipping men of two continents tonight struggled feverishly to solve the mystery of an electrifying SOS. from an unnamed vessel, which reported she had been torpedoed and was sinking, 360 miles south of the Azores. Radiomen pondered the possibility that she might have been a British oil tanker.

"Have been torpedoed by unknown submarine. Hole below water line. Sinking. Urgent"—was the radio message picked up by the Radiomarine station here and by the Portuguese Navy Department at Lisbon, Portugal.

CALL LETTERS NOT LISTED

It was signed with the unlisted call letters, "PECC."

While efforts to identify the sinking vessel were unavailing, radiomen pointed out that the letter "C" in international code was the same as "ten," and pondered the possibility that "PECC" might stand for "Pecten."

London advices reported a British oil tanker Pecten left Trinidad, February 8 and was due in Southampton, England, next Monday. The Pecten was last reported in the vicinity of the position given in the SOS.

Shipping authorities at Horta, the Azores, said officers of a vessel that arrived there last Friday reported sighting two submarines of unidentified nationality south of Fayal Island, in the general area from which the SOS. emanated.

SIGHTS NO WRECKAGE

The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Australia, arriving at the position given in the message, radioed she had sighted neither the vessel nor any wreckage. Later, she advised she was proceeding and turned over the search to the Greek steamer Mount Pelion, which re-

WINDSOR, Ont., Feb. 22 (CP).—Dave Rubinoff, famed violinist, passed customs officials here tonight and received the warning that he must take his $100,000 Stradivarius violin out of Canada within thirty days or pay customs and excise taxes amounting to $38,750. He will make a brief concert tour in Western Ontario.

Hour Limit On Speeches Is Approved

QUEBEC, Feb. 22 (CP).—Limitation of speeches in the Quebec Legislative Assembly to one hour was approved by the Provincial Lower House today after a two-hour debate in which Opposition members charged "liberty of speech" was threatened by the measure and Government supporters replied it was a "common-sense" regulation.

A motion by Premier Duplessis to put the limitation into effect was carried on a 50-17 division.

FIRE MARSHAL IS TO RETIRE

John A. Thomas Leaving Provincial Service After Twenty-One Years

John Alfred Thomas, twenty-one years in the Provincial service and seventeen years of that time as fire marshal, will retire on pension at the end of March, it was announced yesterday by the Attorney-General's Department. A successor to the post has not yet been chosen, it was said.

Identified with the Borden family, whose ancestors settled in Nova Scotia in 1760, Mr. Thomas was born in the Maritime province in 1866, coming to British Columbia in 1898 and entering business at Vancouver.

In May 1918, he joined the Provincial service in a temporary capacity, and in November of the same year entered the civil service permanently. In January, 1922, he was appointed Provincial fire marshal, a position he has filled since.

Mr. Thomas was in the city yesterday, saying good-bye to colleagues in the Provincial service, preparatory to going on leave, pending retirement on superannuation at the end of next month.

Cyclical Disease Decimating Dogs

EDMONTON, Feb. 22 (CP) — Laboratory tests at Ottawa failed to reveal cause of a cyclical disease decimating sleigh dogs in the Western Arctic this Winter, according to information received here from Ottawa. The disease comes in cycles and attacks dogs' kidneys. Even animals in isolated posts have been afflicted with the disease.

VANCOUVER PIONEER DIES

VANCOUVER, Feb. 22 (CP)—Funeral services will be held Thursday for Miss Margaret Nicolls, pioneer Vancouver resident, who died in hospital Tuesday. A resident of Vancouver since 1889, Miss Nicolls was particularly well-known in musical circles.

JAPAN SEEKS NEW RIGHTS

Demands Greater Voice in Administration of International Settlement

SHANGHAI, Feb. 22 (AP).—Japanese armed forces tightened their pressure against Shanghai's foreign-controlled areas today by using the terrorism that has swept those areas as a basis for demanding a greater voice in the administration of the International Settlement.

Japanese marines, said to number 100, took over a part of the Italian defence sector. Because the area lies outside the permanent settlement boundaries, the action was regarded as not constituting an invasion of the International Settlement itself. Japanese said the action was the result of an agreement with Italian officials.

PRESENTS REQUESTS

Eight Japanese, led by a major-general, a rear-admiral and the Japanese consul-general, Yoshiaki Miura, called upon Cornell Franklin, chairman of the council, with a "request for the council's assent to the adoption of effective measures to cope with the present situation."

(Japanese Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita instructed Miura to present a virtual ultimatum to the council, demanding the terrorism be stopped immediately. The Tokio newspaper Asahi said Japanese demanded the prompt arrest of terrorists, greater representation on the council, and reorganization of the International Settlement.)

One Killed In Palestine Disturbance

JERUSALEM, Feb. 22 (CP.-Havas). —One person was killed today and five wounded in Northern and Central Palestine in terrorist violence.

Uhdi Nashashibi, cousin of Ragheb Bey Nashashibi, leader of the moderate Arab delegation at the London Conference, was seriously wounded by an unidentified assailant near the Herod Gate here.

POUR GOLD BRICK

EDMONTON, Feb. 22 (CP) —Start of production in the second mill at Yellowknife gold field on the shore of Great Slave Lake was marked with the pouring of a gold brick at Negus Mines, Ltd., yesterday. The brick weighed thirty-eight pounds, and was valued at approximately $21,000.

REARMAMENT BILL APPROVED

House of Representatives Endorses Roosevelt's Plan —Guam Under Debate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP).—A bill embodying most of President Roosevelt's big rearmament programme received unanimous approval of the United States Senate military committee today, while the House of Representatives engaged in a vociferous debate on the advisability of expanding naval facilities on the far-away island of Guam.

Specifically, the committee endorsed a $358,000,000 expenditure to increase the army's war planes to a total to 6,000, to augment the air corps' personnel, to strengthen defences of the Panama Canal, and to train United States industry in production of war supplies by placement of education orders.

DISREGARD REQUEST

It disregarded a request of War Secretary Woodring for removal of all stated limits on the number of planes to be acquired by the United States army, so that advantage might be taken of economies of mass purchasing.

The House had under consideration a measure to authorize an outlay of $53,800,000 for development of naval air bases at seven points in the mid-Pacific, two in the Alaskan area, one in the Caribbean and four within the United States proper.

Late in the day, after agreeing to defer until tomorrow a vote of removing the $5,000,000 item for Guam from the measure, the House tentatively gave its approval to all other items in the bill.

Says Trade Treaty Will Nullify Whole Preferential System

Toronto Conservative Attacks New Agreement—Sees Accord as Gesture by Canada of Appeasement to United States

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 (CP).—The new Canada-United States trade agreement "is a political treaty which has arisen through the failure of Canada and other countries represented at Geneva to do what they set out to do," T. L. Church (Con., Toronto-Broadview) told the House of Commons today.

"On Canada's part the agreement is a gesture of appeasement to the United States," Mr. Church declared. Of the Anglo-American trade agreement negotiated at the same time, Mr. Church said "I doubt if Britain would ever have agreed had it not been for the failure of Geneva and disarmament, largely brought about by pacifists and the advice of Canada."

Continued debate on the resolution leading to ratification of the Canada-United States agreement occupied the entire sitting of the House today.

UNDERMINES WHOLE SYSTEM

Sacrifice of certain British preferences heretofore enjoyed by Canada made to facilitate the Anglo-American trade agreement, will nullify the whole preferential system, Mr. Church said.

"When this treaty terminates at

RECOGNITION TO BE GRANTED SOON

Action May Be Taken by Saturday By British and French Governments

PARIS, Feb. 22 (AP).—British and French unconditional recognition of the Spanish Nationalist Government of General Franco was declared today to be "probable" by Saturday.

Senator Leon Berard, semi-official French envoy to Burgos who made the declaration, planned to return to the Spanish Nationalist capital tomorrow for a "decisive" conference with General Count Francisco Gomez Jordana, Nationalist Foreign Minister.

The British representative, Sir Robert Hodgson, was in Burgos awaiting Jordana.

SPANISH FIGHT FOR DEMOCRACY

Returned Officer Declares Loyalists Battling Against Foreign Invasion

"The bulwark of Canadian democracy is in the front lines of Loyalist Spain where the fight for freedom and the right to progress is being carried on against the forces of Fascism bent on destruction of civilization," declared Lieutenant W. A. Kardash, former member of the international brigade attached to the Government army in Spain, in an address at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium here last night.

Lieutenant Kardash, who lost a leg in the fighting in Spain, was with the tank corps and served from early in 1937 until wounded and returned to Canada sixteen months after entering the service. He said he had often been asked why he had gone and why hundreds of other Canadians had joined the international units. It was, he recounted, because they understood the need for men to aid the Loyalist cause against the forces from outside, the armies of Hitler and Mussolini. "Don't make any mistake. It is not the Spanish people fighting one against the other it is the Spanish people against the Franco hordes of soldiers from Fascist Italy and Nazi Germany."

DANGER TO EUROPE

"Unless the force of Fascism is defeated in Spain, the danger to the rest of Europe will become very real," he continued. "Already Hitler and Mussolini have their eyes turned toward North and South America. You recently read of the happenings in Peru and not so long ago Nazi spies were sentenced in the United States and in my travels across Canada I find there is the threat of Fascism. This is a real fight we are in and the boys who went from Canada and from other nations, yes even from Germany and Italy, to stand alongside their Spanish brothers understand what this fight means to the peace and security of the world. The battle is for everyone and must be continued to the very end if the world is to survive the threat of reactionary forces."

He suggested the people of Canada should unite in a common cause to prevent Fascism from gaining a foothold in the Dominion. "If the Canadian Government would assist Loyalist Spain, it would remove the embargo on arms and munitions of war and place it where it belongs—against Japan, Italy and Germany," he stated.

APPEAL FOR FUNDS

Following the address of Lieutenant Kardash, Mrs. B. Buhay, national organizer for the Friends of the Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion, gave a short address and concluded with an appeal for funds to help rehabilitate the men of the battalion now returning to Canada. Following the addresses, there was a question period. Rev. A. O. Paterson was chairman and the meeting was held under the auspices of the Democratic Book Club, of Victoria.

At the close of the meeting, an organization was formed to carry on the work for the Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion and to assist men returning to Canada from Spain. It was announced a total of $101 had been collected from the audience.

EXPANSION BRINGS NEW BUSINESS HERE

still are practically untouched for many square miles in the vicinity of Nitinat Lake, westward towards Barkley Sound and easterly towards Port Renfrew.

Lately the attention of large-scale logging operators has been focused on this section of Vancouver Island owing to the success of C. S. Sorenson, the pioneer logger. After logging in the neighborhood of Port Renfrew, where the booming of logs after cutting was always something of a problem, he sought other forests to conquer under still more perplexing conditions. Splendid stretches of timber in the vicinity of Nitinat Lake challenged his knowledge of the logging industry. Despite the hazards, which seemed insurmountable on the surface, of rafting logs to market through the tortuous waters of the Nitinat River and the still more difficult bar off its mouth which has to be negotiated, Sorenson has demonstrated that every log put into Nitinat Lake can be delivered to Island mills if properly rafted and weather conditions are observed closely.

MOVED TO NITINAT

Starting in a modest way on Nitinat Lake limits, Mr. Sorenson's success has proved, according to Mr. Hibberson, that the much-dreaded West Coast, in so far as logging is concerned anyway, has been mastered through perseverance and hard work. Scarcely two years ago Mr. Sorenson moved his plant from Port Renfrew to the Nitinat. It was no trouble to get his logs into Nitinat Lake, the main problems were in negotiating the river and its bar. Several of the river's difficult corners were blasted away by the Dominion Government, but the bar is still a menace. That this can be overcome and its dangers averted, however, has been proved by the fact that a total of 148 rafts, each containing 400,000 feet, or a total of approximately 60,000,000 feet, has been moved over the Nitinat bar without the loss of a single log.

These log rafts of necessity are different from the ordinary tows of tugs moving in quiet waters. The average "swifter" would go to pieces in short time. A special raft had to be designed which would negotiate the river and withstand the crashing power of the surf on the bar. Special "bridles" and "pennants" had to be devised for towing. These rafts are built up in layers of logs securely fastened with wire ropes. They are eighty feet in length, seventy feet in width, and draw between nine and ten feet of water when ready for moving. Two of these rafts, one behind the other, are generally towed by a tug at one time.

In enumerating the different logging operations in order to emphasize what opportunities the cutting of timber over this area means to Victoria merchants, Mr. Hibberson mentioned a number of "shows," some of considerable magnitude, others more modest, but all contributing in some way to general business houses hereabouts.

Sorenson's company, Nitinat Lake Logging Company, is now getting ready to open up a railway proposition. It will be cutting big fir on two "sides," the limit containing a large percentage of "clears." Single trees on this stand will cut anywhere from eighteen to twenty-five thousand feet. The company expects to get out some 20,000,000 feet this year. It has fifteen years' cutting at this total and is employing 100 men.

PORT RENFREW CENTRE

Port Renfrew is the centre of considerable logging activity. The Malahat Logging Company has laid nineteen miles of track at a cost of $1,175,000 to date and will be putting logs into the booming ground on a large scale in April next. It will log about 30,000,000 feet each year for export and have 150 men working. In the same area is the Hemmingsen-Cameron operation with from fifteen to seventeen miles of track. This combination has 300,000,000 feet to log and with sixty men working is producing about 25,000,000 feet per year.

Into Jordan River, Connor Brothers are dumping high-grade fir and spruce logs. Their "show," about nine miles from the river, is a two "side" operation. The output is about 30,000,000 feet each year, and the limit cruised 450,000,000 feet before operations started.

Coming nearer home, the Garrison Logging Company is located at Kirby Creek, thirty-seven miles from Victoria. The company logs from 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 feet every twelve months and intends to put in a dry mill near Muir Creek shortly. From the same tract, the Boyd Lumber Company is falling and milling 8,000,000 feet annually, its product being loaded on scows at Sooke Harbor for ship-side delivery at Ogden Point Piers. This company keeps a crew of fifty men on its payroll. Next door to the Boyd concern is the Elder Logging Company, a pioneer West Coast logging outfit. It employs forty men, cuts 12,000,000 feet a year and booms the forest product in Muir Creek. Also from the same tract, the Manzer Pole Company cuts some 12,000 cedar poles yearly, employing fourteen pair of hands.

Housing Committee Issues Appeal for Increased Listings

THE housing committee, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, is enlisting the support of all citizens who have one or more spare rooms that will be available for renting during the time of the visit of the King and Queen. To date over 100 names have been listed, but this number is not sufficient to take care of the expected demand. The Real Estate Board, co-operating with the chamber, is enlisting the support of its members to secure places for food and lodging for visitors.

SAYS INTEREST IS WIDESPREAD

Rapid Expansion of Red Cross Work in B.C. Predicted by Official

DR. FRED W. ROUTLEY

The Canadian Red Cross Society is on the threshold of great development in British Columbia, in the opinion of Dr. Fred W. Routley, acting national commissioner of the society, with headquarters in Toronto, who arrived in Victoria yesterday morning in the course of his first tour of the Dominion since he took office.

Dr. Routley is well satisfied with the rapid strides that the Red Cross is making in this province. "Both in Vancouver and here, I have seen groups of men and women who are devoutly interested in British Columbia and are anxious to do the work that the Red Cross Society is destined to do in Canada," Dr. Routley remarked.

Throughout Canada the activities of the Red Cross are expanding rapidly year by year, he said. British Columbia is developing a remarkably efficient outpost hospital service and before the end of this year it is probable that there will be five, if not six, outpost hospitals actually in operation in the province.

"There is no doubt that the outpost hospital service is the most spectacular and most heart-gripping work from the public point of view that the Red Cross is doing in Canada," Dr. Routley said.

The visitor has been in charge of Red Cross work in Ontario for eighteen years and is now combining his work in that province with the duties of acting national commissioner. Yesterday morning he attended a meeting of the finance committee of the Victoria and district branch of the society, at which the budget for the current year's activities was under consideration.

With Brigadier-General J. G. Austin, president of the Victoria branch, Dr. Routley called at Government House yesterday afternoon. He has many engagements while in Victoria, including a speaking engagement at a luncheon meeting of the Men's Canadian Club tomorrow, at noon, in the Empress Hotel, and will return to the Mainland tomorrow night.

Dr. Routley is a brother of Dr. T. C. Routley, general secretary of the Canadian Medical Association. With Mrs. Routley, he is staying at the Empress Hotel.

NO INDEPENDENCE

Mr. MacDonald himself subsequently informed the Arabs, it was learned from a good source, that the Government could not give them political independence.

While arguing the need for limitation of Jewish immigration, he was reported to have told his Government colleagues it was out of the question to stop influx completely.

In these circumstances, Government leaders suggested partial autonomy for both Jews and Arabs, and a mixed Jewish-Arab legislative council to co-operate with the Palestine administration, might be the Government's solution.

FINDS WARLIKE SPIRIT ABROAD

James Morton Returns From Europe — Sees Many Soldiers on Parade

The warlike atmosphere of Italy and Germany was much in evidence in those dictator countries, and battalions of soldiers were to be seen daily on parade, said James Morton, who returned to Victoria this week after spending five months in Europe. Mr. Morton was secretary to the late Premier John Oliver.

"Everywhere in Germany you see men in uniform and in Italy, too. In London you may see the trenches in the parks built during the September crisis, but the people of England go along quite happily and do not appear nearly as nervous about war as the people in Canada. However, many people in England said they envied my going to Canada," said Mr. Morton.

The Germans, Mr. Morton declared, wanted to be friendly with Great Britain, but they did not appear to like the French or the Russians. There did not seem to be any food shortage in Germany, although Mr. Morton said he was informed some of the working men were rationed. Butter was of a poor quality and milk was thin, he found.

While in England, Mr. Morton visited his birthplace, Milwich, in Staffordshire, which he had not seen in forty years.

CHAMBERLAIN GIVES WARNING AND OFFER

berlain had decided to recognize Nationalist General Franco as the legitimate ruler of Spain "by the end of the week."

His speech foreshadowed "speedy termination" of the Spanish war, and he told his audience that prospect, coupled with Chancellor Hitler's Reichstag speech of January 30, "encourages me to hope that forces making for an upward turn in the trend of trade may be allowed this year to have opportunity of developing their effect unhampered by political anxieties."

PEACE THROUGH STRENGTH

Mr. Chamberlain defined his own foreign policy as "a policy of peace through strength which will neglect no opportunity of breaking down suspicions and antagonisms and at the same time will build up steadily and resolutely, with the help of our friends within and without the Empire, a strength so formidable as to maintain our rights and liberties against any who might be rash enough to attack them."

Turning to Britain's vast rearmament programme, the Prime Minister said:

"When huge armaments are being piled up on every hand, we cannot avoid a certain anxiety lest some incident, perhaps trifling in itself, should set in motion the machinery that would bring them (the armaments) into motion."

ABLE TO PAY

He said Britain could pay for the programme without damaging her credit.

Police, guarding the Prime Minister against any possible bomb attack in view of recent outrages by members of the illegal Irish Republican Army, required women entering the hall to open their handbags for inspection.

Turning from the arms programme, Mr. Chamberlain discussed the problem of Britain's 2,000,000 unemployed and difficulties of the Lancashire cotton industry.

He put Britain's "standing army" of unemployed at less than 300,000, but said there now are more than 2,000,000 persons out of work. He condemned people who prefer the dole to work.

He added, however, "I do not think there is any reason to take a pessimistic view of the future of employment in general, or of our export trade in particular."

DRESSING-ROOM MAY BE PROVIDED

Possibility of moving the dressing-rooms now located near the Dallas Road playing field of Beacon Hill Park, to the Heywood Avenue pitch, was discussed by a joint committee meeting of the city parks board and the Elks Club playing field committee, in the club last evening.

The parks board, consisting of Aldermen S. H. Okell and B. J. Gadsden, and W. H. Warren, parks superintendent, suggested the club-men's committee write to the City Council stating their interest in the proposition and asking the city's co-operation. A motion to this effect was passed.

Cost of moving the building and repairing it will amount to approximately $300. The committee will meet next Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock, it was decided.

Romantic Spirit Bound to Revive

NEW YORK, Feb 22 (CP).—A revival of the romantic spirit in musical composition and interpretation "is bound to come—is inevitable," according to Ignace Paderewski, seventy-nine, noted Polish pianist and composer, here to begin his twentieth concert tour of the United States.

NORMA SHEARER HAS INFECTION OF THROAT

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 22 (CP).—Norma Shearer, motion picture actress, entered a (Cedars) hospital today for treatment of a streptococcic infection of the throat.

A spokesman for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio said her condition was not serious, but that she had been forced to cancel plans to attend the annual awards dinner of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences tomorrow night.

Hospital attendants described her condition as "good."

Navy League Selects Commander Beard For 1939 President

Members of Victoria and Island Branch Hear Reports From Various Officers at Annual Gathering — Lieut.-Governor Is Honorary Patron

Commander C. T. Beard was chosen president of the Victoria and Island Branch, Navy League of Canada, by the committee of the organization immediately following the close of the annual meeting held last evening in the rooms of the Naval Veterans' Branch, Canadian Legion, on Broad Street. The honorary patron is Lieutenant-Governor Eric W. Hamber; while honorary vice-presidents are Captain Victor Brodeur, commander-in-charge, R.C.N. Station, Esquimalt, and Captain R. W. McMurray, manager of the B.C. Coast Steamships.

Other officers were unanimously re-elected, including Vice-president, C. H. R. Slingsby; honorary treasurer, E. Stonham; honorary secretary, Captain J. A. Philipsen; executive, the above-named officers, with Captain George Kirkendale, Thomas Jones, Col. J. R. Kingham, P. E. George, Dr. Thomas Miller, Lieut.-Col. H. E. Goodman, Lieut.-Commander H. R. Tingley, Lieut.-Col. Vincent McKenna, Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown and Mrs. L. A. Genge, while ex-officio members are Mrs. K. C. Symons, regent of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E.; Mrs. R. Shanks, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Navy League; Lieut.-Commander A. C. Wurtele, and Lieut.-Commander P. W. Tribe, Sea Cadets.

Following the agenda, the meeting opened with the reading of minutes of last year's meeting, followed by reports of the acting president, honorary secretary, honorary treasurer, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, commander of Sea Cadet Corps, rifle instructor and bandmaster.

SILENT TRIBUTE

In his report, Acting President Slingsby referred to the loss of two valued members during the year—Colonel Lindsay and Captain Johnston—and he asked the members present to stand in silent tribute to their memories. The acting president referred to the winning of the Provincial I.O.D.E. Shield by the Rainbow Sea Cadet Corps for efficiency. A suggestion has been made, he stated, to place the cadets under naval inspection, and it has been forwarded to headquarters for consideration. Referring to the Trafalgar Day ceremony of some years back, it would be a matter for the 1939 committee to decide whether it should be revived in 1939.

Honorary Treasurer Stonham reported the branch solvent, while Honorary Secretary Philipsen mentioned the corps is now getting an allowance from the Community Chest, which is a great help, but does not cover everything needed to carry on. He referred to the assistance rendered by the executive, Ladies' Auxiliary and instructors, and stated they deserved the thanks of the members.

Rifle Instructor Captain Brown reported on the standing attained by the corps in miniature rifle shooting, and instanced the winning of the Devonshire Trophy. Bugle Instructor Drysdale's report told about parades the boys figured in, and in addition recalled the good shooting of the senior classes in competitions at Heals Range, and the splendid showing made by several of the lads who competed in rifle matches at Vancouver.

BEST MATERIAL

Lieut.-Commander P. W. Tribe, covering the activities of 1938, stated the corps was able to select the very best material from among Victoria boys. The corps is now 100 strong and every boy is keen and regular in attendance. Good progress is continuous in seamanship, first aid and rifle shooting. The fine standard attained is due to the energy of Captain Philipsen, general instructor in seamanship; First Aid Instructor C. Pilewood, late Royal Canadian Navy; Captain C. Goring, sailmaking; Bugle Instructor B. Drysdale, who kept the band up to strength; Captain W. Brown, rifle shooting; while a new member of the instruction staff, C. Wright, R.C.N.V.R., is of great assistance. The annual camp had been very successful. During the year fourteen boys had found berths.

Concluding, he referred to his junior and petty officers as a particularly fine group, and thanked all ranks for their loyalty and assistance.

Fishermen's Reserve Is Given Praise

Following his inspection of the two hundred British Columbia coast fishermen who have been enrolled in the Fishermen's Reserve, at Esquimalt, yesterday, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor said some complimentary things about the smartness of the men, and congratulated the naval officers who have been active in the formation of the Reserve. In the picture Mr. Hamber is seen chatting with Lieut.-Commander C. D. Donald, R.C.N. (left), who has charge of the unit, and Lieut.-Commander C. M. G. Donaldson, R.C.N.V.R.

COMPLIMENTED ON SMARTNESS

Men of Fishermen's Reserve Praised by Lieutenant-Governor

Parading for an inspection by Lieutenant-Governor Eric W. Hamber, two hundred men of the recently-formed Fishermen's Reserve mustered in the Naval Dockyard yesterday morning and earned many complimentary references for their smart appearance, causing His Honor to remark on their fine bearing and to state it had given him great pleasure to take advantage of the opportunity to meet them.

"The Fishermen's Reserve is an excellent idea," Mr. Hamber stated, following the inspection. "I may state the smartness of the unit surprised me, in view of the fact the men have been training such a short time."

Received by Captain Victor Brodeur, R.C.N.; Commander R. I. Agnew, R.C.N.; Lieutenant-Commander F. G. Hart, R.C.N.; Lieutenant-Commander C. D. Donald, R.C.N., and Paymaster Lieutenant-Commander Jarvis McLeod, registrar of the Fishermen's Reserve, the Lieutenant-Governor arrived at the inspection base shortly after 11 a.m., accompanied by Lieutenant-Commander C. E. M. Donaldson, R.C.N.V.R., naval aide.

Followed by the naval officers, Mr. Hamber passed along the lines of men drawn up in double formation, with the forty skippers in the same order out in front. Shaking hands with the skippers, he complimented them on their smart appearance.

The two hundred men of the Fishermen's Reserve have been at Esquimalt since the beginning of February. They hail mostly from Vancouver and Prince Rupert. They have been drilling intensively since arrival, and, in addition to getting plenty of setting-up exercises, have received instruction in piloting, machine-gunnery, rifle handling, marching, minesweeping and signalling.

Their period of training will end on Saturday and a number of the boats will be leaving for home on that day.

FIRE REPORTED UNDER CONTROL

Coast Guard Cutter Racing To Aid Texas Banker Ordered to Put Back

GALVESTON, Texas, Feb. 22 (AP)—Commander Berger Benson, of the coast guard here, announced the freighter Texas Banker radioed tonight the fire in her holds was under control and aid was not needed. Other ships rushing to the vessel were told to turn back. She was about 250 miles southeast of Galveston.

The coast guard cutter Sarañac and her sister cutter Tampa, forty miles off Mobile, Ala., were ordered to her rescue immediately. Later the Radiomarine coastal station at Chatham, Mass., reported it received a message at 1.10 p.m. (P.S.T.) saying the Alexandria Hoegh was proceeding to the stricken ship's side.

The Texas Banker carries a general cargo and was en route from Brownsville, Texas, to New York under the command of Capt. N. G. Gelin, New York.

YACHTING PARTY FORCED TO WAIT

Salvage Vessel Retriever Expected To Reach Stranded Sanspeur Sometime Saturday

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Feb. 22 (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Sutherland, safe after their yacht struck a reef in the Gulf of California and was beached near La Paz, must wait several days for salvage operations to begin.

The San Pedro tug Retriever, returning from the Galapagos Islands, was requested by British consular officials to aid the Duke's disabled craft, Sanspeur. It was expected to reach the scene of the wreck about Saturday.

The Los Angeles Examiner said Vincent Astor, who sailed from here last Monday on his yacht Nourmahla, for a fishing expedition to the South Seas, would put in to the gulf to assist the Sanspeur's party.

Built for Ocean-Service, Clipper Now Flying East

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 22 (AP)—A flying Clipper destined for trans-Atlantic service winged eastward today on a 1,600-mile overland flight from San Diego to New Orleans.

The Boeing Clipper, No. 17, built to carry seventy-four passengers across oceans, took off from San Diego at 7.12 a.m. (M.S.T.), and was scheduled to reach the Louisiana metropolis at 4 p.m. (M.S.T.)

As an alternative, if fuel ran low or favorable winds died down, the Clipper could land at Galveston, Texas, about 300 miles short of New Orleans.

REFLOATED ON RISING TIDE

Sterlet and Sunfish, British Submarines, Go Ashore During Manoeuvres

PORTSMOUTH, England, Feb. 22 (AP)—Two submarines, the Sunfish and Sterlet, ran aground in Sandown Bay, Isle of Wight, during a gale today.

One of the submarines was refloated on the rising tide and left for its base under its own power. Other warships stood by to assist in refloating the second craft.

The Sterlet and Sunfish, which were engaged in manoeuvres, were commissioned in 1937 and are reputed to be able to dive to deep water in thirty seconds.

Lloyd's yesterday warned all shipping that an empty, outmoded submarine, the L-21, was drifting in the Irish Sea. It broke away from the tugboat Strongbow while being towed to Ireland for junking.

CHURCH FIELDS TO BE MERGED

Knox, Gorge and Erskine Charges to Be Brought Under Single Ministry

Acting on the recommendation of the home missions committee, the Presbytery of Victoria yesterday decided that the Knox, Gorge and Erskine Presbyterian Churches should be merged under one ministry, and empowered the home missions committee to appoint a new minister to the combined charge.

At present the Gorge and Erskine Presbyterian Churches come under one ministry, that of Rev. T. H. McAllister, and the committee recommended that Mr. McAllister should be transferred to the Port Alberni charge. This recommendation has yet to be confirmed.

Reports of church activities were presented to the Presbytery yesterday, and the session concluded at 5 p.m. The Presbytery will meet again in St. Andrew's Church, and urged that periodical rallies of all congregations should be held.

A further suggestion made by Mr. Hyde, during the morning session, was that a travelling evangelist would be of great benefit to the Island churches to stem the drift of young people into paganism.

A serious shortage of lay leaders was referred to by Mr. McAllister in presenting the report on Sabbath School and Young People's Society work. He stated that in consequence of this shortage, ministers were having to act as superintendents in four of the Island's eleven Sabbath Schools. The need for an effort to bring the parents of Sabbath School children into the church also was emphasized by Mr. McAllister, who expressed regret that many of the parents were not themselves churchgoers.

Miss J. S. Scott, corresponding secretary of the Victoria Presbyterial Missionary Society, reported on the work of that organization, and congratulated the Presbytery on the achievements of the women and girls who were members of the society.

BUDGET REPORT

The budget report, presented yesterday afternoon by Alex Cruickshank, showed that the allocation for the Presbytery for the current year was $25,000, distributed among the congregations.

Rev. Peter McNabb and Rev. Samuel Lundie, Sooke, were appointed commissioners, and A. Fraser and Alex Cruickshank elders to the General Assembly meeting in Midland, Ont., in June.

The pensions report, submitted by D. A. Sutherland, showed that all ministers were contributors to the fund, which was in a very healthy condition. Statistical reports showed a slight increase in church membership, and an increase in donations for local and missionary purposes during the year.

Rev. Dr. W. A. Cameron, Central Presbyterian Church, Vancouver, was nominated by the Presbytery as a candidate for the office of general secretary for home missions and foreign work of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

RALLIES SUGGESTED

Rev. James Hyde, who presented the home missions report, suggested that the time was opportune for a greater centralization of work in St. Andrew's Church, and urged that periodical rallies of all congregations should be held.

Smallpox-Dogged Freighter Is Now On Fraser River

NEW WESTMINSTER, Feb. 22 (CP)—Ms. Queen Victoria, smallpox-dogged British freighter, arrived here today from the William Head Quarantine Station to begin loading for Australia.

She left behind in Victoria four crew members who are reported to be recovering satisfactorily from the disease, which broke out on board while the vessel was en route from Shanghai.

A later outbreak at Port Alberni forced the Queen Victoria to return to William Head for further quarantine.

CUMBERLAND TEACHERS APPEALING TO COUNCIL

CUMBERLAND, Feb. 22 — School matters took up most of the time at the council meeting Monday night. Present on behalf of the school board were Mrs. Gatz, secretary, and Robert Aitken, trustee. Chairman A. J. Taylor and S. L. Robertson, who are also both on the council and board of trustees, sat at the council table. G. Apps and H. Watson, of the elementary teaching staff, were also present.

A brief was presented by H. Watson and G. Apps on behalf of the teachers in their fight to have the 25 per cent cut restored to their wages, or at least as much of the 25 per cent as possible.

COLONEL DREW AND DEFENCE

Colonel George A. Drew has been accused again and again of seeking to gain a political advantage by his criticism of the Bren gun contract. Even such a fair newspaper as The Toronto Globe and Mail said: "He could have served Canada in a more patriotic way if he had approached the Minister of National Defence, who, we believe, was a friend of his, and offered his opinions as a matter of public service in the defence of Canada and for the integrity of the Empire."

This is exactly what Colonel Drew did, but the suggestions he made fell largely on barren ground. In a public statement on May 15, 1936, he said: "The officers of the Canadian Militia have for years been unanimous in their demand for a complete reorganization of the Canadian Militia, the assurance of necessary supplies of war equipment and the announcement of some clearly defined policy in regard to aviation and aircraft production." This statement was brought to the attention of the Minister of National Defence, and, subsequently, Colonel Drew had an interview with him on the subject.

On November 13, 1936, the following resolution, moved by Colonel Drew, was adopted by the Conference of Defence Associations at Ottawa: "That this Conference urges the Government to take immediate steps to create a Munitions Board, or some similar body, to control the production within Canada of such munitions as can now be made here satisfactorily and to prepare plans for the effective mobilization of our industrial resources in the event of war." Mr. Ian Mackenzie was present at the conference. In discussing the resolution Colonel Drew particularly mentioned the Bren gun and advocated its manufacture in Canada. A year ago Colonel Drew again met the Minister of National Defence and discussed with him the subject matter of the foregoing resolution. "Privately," says Colonel Drew, "at numerous military gatherings, and publicly, I had clearly explained my position to the Minister of National Defence for over two years . . . As a matter of official record, I started urging nearly three years ago that the Bren gun should be made in Canada. My opposition to the present contract is based entirely on my belief that those who now have the contract are not qualified to make the gun; that is could be made very much faster in a Government arsenal or under the direction of skilled manufacturers of steel in this country, and particularly that there should be no profiteering in the manufacture of weapons of this kind."

CRITICISM OF PARLIAMENT

Dr. R. J. Manion, the Conservative leader in the House of Commons, protests against criticism of waste of time in Parliament. Senator Meighen, the Conservative leader in the Upper House, protests vigorously because the time of the Senate is wasted through delay of business in the House of Commons. There is no doubt whatever that Mr. Meighen is right, that too much time is wasted in speech-making in the House of Commons, and he is corroborated in this viewpoint by the Prime Minister, who says that prolonged speeches by private members and others have made it impossible to proceed with any Government business since the session of Parliament opened over five weeks ago.

It is not only Senator Meighen who has protested but Senator Dandurand as well, and the latter is the Liberal leader in the Senate. Dr. Manion's objection, therefore, to criticism is not well founded. There is no desire in any quarter to curtail freedom of speech in Parliament, but there is a wish that members would refrain from saying the same thing over and over again ad nauseam, would desist from academic and theoretical discussion and would confine their attention to the business of the country. It is one of the boasts of democratic countries that there is freedom of criticism of elected institutions. So long as there is democracy there must be such freedom.

HISTORY

The other day a sermon was preached in one of the city churches in which the speaker dealt with certain historical facts bearing upon his text and gave an account of some recent discoveries which have thrown new light upon Biblical passages hitherto imperfectly understood. The sermon furnished an illustration of the value of history as an educational discipline and as supplying the student with knowledge useful in itself. Incidentally, the preacher mentioned an unsigned communication that he had received from someone who disliked such excursions into history and had expressed the opinion that as these affairs of long ago were over and done with, it was useless to bring them up again. Apparently the letter writer disapproved of the idea that the past may throw light on the present.

It is possible that those who dislike the historical method in Biblical study began their acquaintance with history under dry-as-dust teachers who had but little interest in or knowledge of the subject. It is only too true that some teachers have inflicted a good deal of unnecessary suffering upon their pupils. Dates, lists of kings, statesmen, warriors, battles and the like can give a boy a strong dislike for historical study. Complaints regarding this kind of teaching are no new thing. If anyone cares to consult the educational journals of half a century ago he will find plenty of evidence of dissatisfaction. In fact the pendulum soon began to swing too far in the opposite direction. Vaguely defined "periods" took the place of exact dates. Vaguely defined "movements" and "tendencies" blurred the clear-cut edges of significant events. A fog of vague economic theory eclipsed the gayety of courts and pageants, coronations and royal progress and the sunshine of the Field of the Cloth of Gold. No wonder young people found it heavy going in the history class when all the colors had faded. No wonder that many people owe much of their knowledge of history, not to the prescribed school texts, but to Shakespeare's plays, Walter Scott's novels, and Plutarch's Lives.

Teachers of history in school will accomplish a good work if they implant in their pupils a liking for history. What is more, they will do them a great disservice by giving them a distaste for it. The great sages are singularly unanimous in their opinion of the value of history. They say that history is philosophy teaching by examples, that it teaches us to distinguish what is accidental and transitory in human nature from what is essential and immutable, that as the present state of things is the consequence of the past it is natural to inquire as to the sources of the good we enjoy or the evils we suffer, that it makes a young man old without wrinkles or gray hair, privileging him with the experience of age without either the infirmities or the inconveniences thereof, that we ought to examine and understand what has been written by the ancients and then cast our eyes round upon the world; that indeed history is the most pleasant school of wisdom, and that not to know what has been transacted in former times is to continue always a child.

CELEBRATING ISANDHLWANA

The sixtieth anniversary of the Battle of Isandhlwana has been celebrated jointly by the British and Zulus. It was a battle in which, according to a photograph of the celebrations, "A Zulu chieftain outwitted a British commander-in-chief, destroyed his camp, and butchered 832 English troops." There is no other nation in the world that celebrates a defeat; no other nation that has the same element of sportsmanship in its characteristics. The British always are willing to pay tribute to a brave foe, even a barbarous one. The Zulus today are a happy and contented part of the population of the British Empire. The defeat of Isandhlwana has not left a single unpleasant thought in the minds of the combatants, and they were able to celebrate it together. It is the British way to have no rankling memories of defeat, but to go on calmly to victory, even if, in the course of events, it means awaiting triumph in the last battle of all.

When Dr. R. J. Manion, the Conservative leader, was speaking in Parliament on the Bren gun contract, the following exchange occurred, according to Hansard: Dr. Manion—"Since the Prime Minister is interrupting I will ask him a question. Does he know Major Hahn?" Mr. King—"No." Dr. Manion—"I thought not, and yet without knowing Hahn he makes him the representative of the Dominion of Canada in London."

Whatever contribution the new driving tests for motorists may make to safety on the highways they are making an undoubted contribution to the pockets of the oculists of British Columbia. The Government now decrees, if you drive a motor car, whether in its opinion you must wear spectacles. An option possessed by motorists hitherto no longer exists.

All the nations will soon extend their recognition to General Franco, but they may not be able to recognize Spain after the shambles of war.

"WHEN YOU ARE OLD"

When you are old and grey and full of sleep,
And nodding by the fire, take down this book,
And slowly read, and dream of the soft look
Your eyes had once, and of their shadows deep;

How many loved your moments of glad grace,
And loved your beauty will love false or true;
But one man loved the pilgrim soul in you
And loved the sorrows of your changing face.

And bending down beside the glowing bars
Murmur, a little sadly, how love-fled
And paced upon the mountains overhead
And hid his face amid a crowd of stars.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Physicists can immerse a small block of wood in a beaker of water and, by measuring the weight of water displaced, tell you the specific gravity of that piece of wood. For solids and liquids, they use water as a standard; and for gases, air. All of which one learns in school. But immerse a man in his surrounding circumstances and determine his usefulness we cannot, because there is no such thing as a standard man. No two individuals are alike. Some sink in their circumstances. Others float. A few not only float, but help to change the circumstances, a little. Of those few history takes note; sometimes kindly, sometimes unkindly. Of the others there will be no written mention after the tide of Time has come in and smoothed their names out of the sand. It is a humbling thought, that. It is a consideration that should keep the boldest man from becoming uppity, if you will allow the expressive little word. If you should know a vainglorious individual, coax him to the beach. Let him make his mark in the sand. Watch his face as the tide comes in, and smoothes the sand over again. Then whisper gently in his ear: "Life is like that. For most of us, the last tide will do it. If you want your name to live, do not write it in the loose sands of circumstances. Write it in the hearts of men!"

Were you taught about Canute? Most people have been. He was all-powerful, but the common tide would not obey him. No doubt he wrote his name on the sand, and watched it being obliterated. If he were living today, we would have a name for him. He commanded the tide to go back, but it kept on coming in. There are a number of people abroad in the world today who would like to command even the tide. But they cannot, you know. The tide will ebb and flow, just in the same old way. By standing on our heads we may see the ebb as a flow, and vice versa; but that will not fool the tide. It knows what it is doing. Sometimes one wonders if man does! The trouble today is not that there is not a standard man, for you couldn't bear him if there was; but that man himself has let go some of the important standards by which he measured the usefulness of a life. They did not have to be, and seldom were, the same standards with each man; but they were gauges with which each one could measure his own life, and those of his companions. There were standards of thought, standards of conduct, standards of effort, and others. There have been so many to pull down standards, and so few to raise them, that man stands bewildered in the middle of his circumstances. His specific gravity is the same as ever; but something has happened to his specific usefulness.

History, could we learn it all, would probably have analogies for the age in which we live. The tides of Time have blotted them out, and left the sands smooth again. Man still stands questioning at the door of tomorrow, and asks of himself: what next? It is a dangerous mood. It is a mood which keeps the individual from regarding his own circumstances; from any attempt to improve them for himself, or for others. This is a day to hold fast to personal standards, of thought, of conduct, of effort; to have some conviction of what is the specific usefulness of a man, and to stick to it—for a man without convictions is like a boat without a tiller or a compass. Tides ebb and flow. Reason follows unreason. What Time bears away on its broad tide today, it may carry back improved tomorrow. In all the long scroll of history, man has never abandoned for long his march towards a higher individual state, a better personal day. There have been relapses into savagery, and there may be again; but, in the end, reason conquers. Each fresh tide finds man at a higher level above the primitive imperfections of his human soul. Physicists can tell you the specific gravity of a block of wood or of a man. Only man himself can decide his specific usefulness, to the day and age in which he lives. If the record is written upon the shifting sands of circumstance it will pass. If it is written in the hearts of men, it will live; for that is the fashion of men, and of the nature of Time itself.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where no two occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of low water on the sill of the Esquimalt Drydock, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

Taxpayers Seek To Stop Payment

EDMONTON, Feb. 22 (CP).—Taxpayers of Sterling municipal district have passed a resolution asking their council to withhold from the Provincial Government this year's payments of the social service tax unless the Government returns to the municipal district, in the form of a road grant, a total of $23,380 collected from Sterling since 1935.

Glancing Over Sport

A hockey fan from Toronto states that if the Leafs meet Boston Bruins in the Stanley Cup play-offs again this season the Queen City boys will knock over the league leaders just like past years. Here's the trick: Annoy Eddie Shore as often as possible, have him in the penalty box at intervals during the three periods and the Leafs can beat the Bruins more often than Boston can turn the trick. . . . Do you know that the British Board of Boxing Control has abrogated its working agreement with the New York Boxing Commission because it would not suspend Tommy Farr? The Welshman incurred B.B.B.C. wrath when he failed to go through with a match with Max Schmeling. . . . The Junior and Juvenile Football Association officials dropped into the office to state that they are still operating and will have their teams gunning for the Island and British Columbia honors shortly. That's fine, I thought the circuit might have folded, but glad to hear that it is in existence for the sake of future footballers in this city. . . . Henry Cotton, former British open golf champion, is making something like $2,000 per week appearing on the stage in Old Country theatres. No wonder he wants a big guarantee to play in the United States. —J.D.

Would Check Extravagance

The Leadership League organized by C. G. McCullagh, of The Globe and Mail, Toronto, is being launched with the avowed object of awakening interest in national affairs in the Dominion of Canada. Mr. McCullagh, in announcing the aims and objects of the organization, set out that membership was open to all citizens no matter what their brand of political faith might be. The object was to awaken in the political parties a higher sense of duty to the state so that Canada might be rescued from what was feared to be a dangerous future for the country through reckless spending. He proposes the working within the ranks of the parties, a reformation that will make for improvement in public affairs. There is certainly scope for the attainment of the objects in the checking up of extravagance in a public way throughout the Dominion. Doubts may exist as to the efficacy of the mode suggested. —O.H.N.

Cage Sidelights

Albert Marr's Chinese Students displayed plenty of "fight" on Tuesday evening at the High School gymnasium, when they came from behind to defeat West Road. . . . Donald Lee, young rookie from the Sunday School Basketball League, now a starting member of the Students' quintette, is one of the most promising of the younger basketball players in the city. . . . The season's surprise packet—Dominoes' 74-15 victory over the Senators. Most fans, including yours truly, figured the Dominoes to win the city championship, but we certainly expected more from the Senators. . . . Eight Aces, smart intermediate "A" boys' quintette, is our choice to reach the Vancouver Island final, and perhaps, if they are careful about the way they tackle the Harvey Murphy boys of Nanaimo, they may take the Island crown. (Our scout informs us the Up-Islanders are really good.)—S.T.

Recipe for Comfort

Bill, the Broad Street barber, is a man who can answer almost any question. Last time we dropped into his shop we asked him for a recipe to get a janitor out of his warm bed in the mornings to throw a bit of coal on the furnace while the frost was still in the ground. Willie suggested that a person could buy such janitor a box of cigars every week, and then apply for a reduction in the rent to compensate for the price of the weeds. As an alternative, he thought it would be possible to buy the janitor two alarm clocks which he could set half an hour apart on the assumption that the second alarm would remind him of his duties. Thirdly, he thought the management of a building in which the heat was deficient in the mornings could be induced to shell out for an automatic coal stoker or oil burner. When we pointed out all his remedies cost cold hard cash, he suggested that a tardy janitor might be induced to sleep with his bedroom windows wide open in order that the cold would awaken him and remind him of the fact that tenants were also suffering.—G.B.

WILL REORGANIZE

Manning, Provincial Secretary, will assist in reorganization of the Calgary Social Credit Constituency Association in accordance with a new constitution adopted at the recent provincial convention of the Alberta Social Credit League.

OAK BAY LOSES ESSAY TROPHY

Shield Held Here for Two Years Is Awarded to North Vancouver

The winners of the school drama essay contest were announced yesterday by the secretary of the Provincial Drama Association, Miss Jean Burnett.

The three judges, Miss H. M. E. Daniels, acting for the Department of Education; H. R. Sharples, on behalf of The Daily Times, donors of the shield, and Mrs. Myrtle E. Lane, representing the Canadian Authors' Association, have been considering the essays since last November. Their marking places North Vancouver High School first with an average of 76.77 marks; Oak Bay High School comes second with an average of 75.61, and Kitsilano High School ranks third with an average of 68.22.

The Oak Bay High School has held the shield for the last two years.

The best essay was written by Miss E. Lamb, North Vancouver High School. Miss Lamb will have the honor of reading her essay on the opening night of this year's Provincial Drama Festival.

Much organization work has recently been done among schools interested in drama. The British Columbia School Drama Guild has been formed, and eighty-one affiliated high and superior school drama clubs are to be presented with a charter bearing pictures of Their Majesties in commemoration of the Royal visit to British Columbia.

A very noteworthy list of plays suitable for school use has recently been issued by the school and community drama office of the Education Department.

Letters to the Editor

No letter to the Editor will be inserted except over the proper signature and address of the writer. This rule admits of no exception. No letter should exceed 500 words in length.

DRAMA FESTIVAL

Sir,—In your report on the above-named contest in this morning's paper you state that almost immediately after the adjudicator had named the Nanaimo Dramatic Academy's entry, "The Woman From the Vee," as the winner, that "the chairman, Captain T. L. Thorpe-Doubble, stated that as Nanaimo could not send its company East to compete in the Dominion finals in May, the winner of the Lennox Award, the Beaux-Arts Society, would go in its stead."

This is not correct. When the adjudicator named the Beaux-Arts entry as the winner of the Lennox Award, I asked him if that was to be considered as the second choice, as the Lennox Award and the Murrin Award are each, in their sphere, of equal merit. When he assured me that it was his second choice I made that announcement to the audience, saying that if Nanaimo was unable to go for any reason, that the winner of the Lennox Award would go in order that there might be no uncertainty or discussion afterwards.

Chairman,

DEFENCE OF CANADA

Sir,—There are certain facts the Defence of Canada League would like to place before your readers. Recently we were asked: "What further use is there for your organization now that the Canadian Government is defence conscious?"

Taking for granted our Government is defence-conscious, can the same be said of the Canadian people? What action are the various sections of Canada taking in support of the defence measures the Government has accomplished, or has in view? Our observations bring out the fact that various portions look upon the money appropriated for defence works as simply a fund to be distributed amongst ridings in political favor. This, of course, the thinking citizen knows, is untrue, but it is the unthinking citizen (and his name is legion) who must be brought to a realization of the breakers ahead.

Outside of British Columbia, what part of Canada is at all alarmed over the vital question of the continued Oriental penetration and its menace to Canadian defence? I pointed this matter out to the Canadian public early in 1935 and met with considerable ridicule and opposition from portions of Canada where ignorance of the question is rampant. The Defence of Canada League vigorously supported my endeavors to get a hearing, which, in a measure, has been accomplished.

As a Canadian who thinks of Canada first, it is my opinion that any Canadian Government, of any political stripe, which has the power, should deal with this question. Why should consideration be given to a potential enemy? Would the Japanese, for example, be so kind to us if they ever got control of British Columbia and, afterwards, of other parts of Canada? What could stop an Oriental power from securing control of British Columbia, and then, other parts of Canada? Certainly not the defence measures taken to date.

Then there is the question of non-combatant civilians. Although we have pointed out to authorities what would amount to criminal negligence on their part if the need should arise, no instructions have been given the public how citizens could protect themselves against incendiarism, how to adjust gas masks, and how to evacuate the larger inhabited zones. What superlative smugness in these days of Hitlerism; these days when all "foreign" human beings are just nonentities to be dealt with as the gang leader sees fit!

Take heed, Canada. You are no more prepared to take care of your own citizens than the Jews. Are you content to rest on the charitable protection of some other country, and which you must pay for, "somehow, sometime."

The Defence of Canada League stands for the independence and unity of the Canadian nation—a state in the making. We are alive to the dangers. How many in Canada are loyal to Canada and its glorious traditions? Canada, a country without its own flag; a country whose politicians (all sides) consider the question of a flag too dangerous a matter to handle.

Have some pride, Canadians! Do your own thinking, or some other country, some other race, will do it for you. Awake, Canada, get behind us in our struggle for a higher patriotism, for independent thoughts and action which are so necessary in the building of a nation worth living in, worth dying for.

Staff Captain (Retired),
National President.

CRITICISM

Sir,—It is peculiar that Mr. R. J. Manion, Conservative leader, Ottawa, should state his objection to "criticism from people outside Parliament who lectured members on what they should do," as quoted from the press, February 17, 1939, considering that we are a democracy and not a totalitarian nation.

All those in Parliament are the servants of the people. Some of them are distinguished public servants—but servants—nevertheless. The people should have a more direct voice in a Government they have created.

FELLOWSHIP GROUPS

Sir,—A few nights ago I sat in front of some hundreds of girls and boys from the Victoria schools. They were of the Inter-School Fellowship Groups, called together by James Forrester, M.A., secretary for Western Canada, to hear him outline the aim of that movement, and its progress among the student groups in schools and colleges from sea to sea in our broad land of hope. Then they listened to Dr. R. H. Glover, M.D., F.R.G.S., just returned for lectures after forty-five years in the mission fields of the world.

Towards the end of his glowing story of sacrifice in the great cause of humanity, Dr. Glover said: "In spite of the ever present danger of death in the mission work in China, I hated leaving Shanghai; I want to go back; the call for help is so urgent. I long to go back, after all, don't more people die in their beds than any other way?" . . . I turned my head to see their reaction to that thought. Looking into their young eyes, I failed to find any sign of craven fear, but only quiet confidence, and the joy of courageous resolve. There were tears in my eyes as I bent them once more on the speaker, but thank God they were tears of pride and joy. For those boys and girls are Canada that is to be, therefore we take heart of hope and faith for our beloved country.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of February 23, 1889)

Boats Race on Sound—On Thursday quite an exciting race took place on Puget Sound between the steamer North Pacific and the tug Sea Lion. Both vessels left Port Townsend about the same time for Seattle the North Pacific having a start of three minutes. They both entered the harbor of Seattle, traveling like "through freights," with the Sea Lion ten minutes ahead of her larger opponent.

New Switchboard Installed—One of the Bell Telephone Company's latest improved switchboards for fifty lines was placed in position in the Central Telephone office in this city, yesterday. The new instrument is one of the finest pieces of mechanism for electrical use ever seen in this province.

New Association Will Be Formed — A meeting was held last night in the City Hall, where over fifty gentlemen reported themselves as willing to form an association for the purpose of organization of a poultry, dog and pet stock association. Mr. Braden occupied the chair, and J. B. Carmichael acted as secretary. A constitution and by-laws were adopted by the association called the British Columbia Poultry, Dog and Pet Stock Association. Dr. Milne was elected president.

CONTEST WINNERS TO BE ANNOUNCED

Lucky Contestants in Movie Quiz Contest Will Receive Screen Notification

Most motion picture audiences will be interested in National Announcement Night, which will be held in motion picture theatres throughout the country on Monday evening, February 27, for this day will be truly remembered by 5,404 persons — winners of the $250,000 movie quiz contest. On this occasion announcement of the winners will be made from the stages or screens of all the motion picture theatres that have participated in the campaign that marked motion pictures' greatest year.

Managers of the Capitol, Dominion and Atlas Theatres will celebrate this occasion by announcing the names of all national prize winners from the $50,000 first prize, $25,000 second prize, $10,000 prize winners, $5,000 prize winners, down to the $1,000 successful contestants. Should winners be present in the theatres, certified cheques will be presented to them on this occasion.

The judges of the contest are Mrs. Ogden Reid, Dr. James E. West, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, Bruce Barton and Hendrik Willem Van Loon.

In the selection of the winning letters, the entries were considered without signatures and identified by a key number. In that way even the judges did not know the names of the successful contestants until after they made their selections.

The motion picture industry is proud of the success of this contest and the manner in which it was judged. Although a tremendous task, because of the large number of entries, each answer was carefully checked by a staff of experts, and through a process of elimination the letters were graded and then considered by the judges.

EVE MAXWELL-LYTE IS ACCLAIMED BY DANCER

Among the many complimentary notices relating to the art of folk songs and their interpretation as given by Eve Maxwell-Lyte, is one by Flora M. Fairbairn, principal of the Mayfair School of Dancing, London, England, which reads: "In Eve Maxwell-Lyte's art these beautiful songs of the nations live again—and live in a manner which she has made her own. She has but to lift a hand or arrange a drapery, and before one appears the complete picture of the subject which she would convey. She uses her beautifully modulated voice with artistry, and the sense of vision in her delivery of the words of the songs surpasses description."

Eve Maxwell-Lyte will appear at the Empress Hotel on Monday, February 27, at 8:30 p.m.

GIVES RULING IN WRIT APPLICATION

Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson, in a Supreme Court decision, ruled that no further criminal proceedings may be taken against Russell Everleigh for non-payment of wages to Joseph P. Haddock, Cowichan Lake.

Through R. Twining, his counsel, Mr. Everleigh applied for a writ of prohibition to prevent further action following service of a summons on the matter. He pleaded guilty on July 4, 1938, to a charge of failing to pay Mr. Haddock certain wages, and received a one-year suspended sentence from Stipendiary Magistrate J. H. Boyd, Nanaimo.

SPY DRAMA NOW SHOWING HERE

Paul Lukas and Margaret Lockwood Star at Capitol Theatre in "The Lady Vanishes"

Spy dramas seem to be increasingly popular in these war-torn days, and the one which will open at the Capitol Theatre today, "The Lady Vanishes," will meet all the excitement of that kind one can crave.

It stars Margaret Lockwood and Mitchell Redgrave in the two top roles, with excellent support given by Dame May Whitty and Paul Lukas.

The scene is laid in a train speeding westward from the Balkans, when two innocent young English folk, Miss Lockwood and Redgrave, become entangled in the machinations of Dame Whitty and Paul Lukas, opposite ends of the spy tangle.

"THE CITADEL" IS AT ATLAS TODAY

Robert Donat and Rosalind Russell Have Starring Roles in British Film

"The Citadel," based on the novel by Dr. A. J. Cronin, has been brought to the screen in a notable picture which will open today at the Atlas Theatre.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer produced this film at its British studio in Denham, England, with Robert Donat and Rosalind Russell in the leading roles. A cast of more than 100 players appears in support, principal among them the well-known English actors, Ralph Richardson, Rex Harrison, Emlyn Williams and Penelope Dudley-Ward.

"KIWANIS KAPERS" TO HAVE POPULAR COMEDY

The Kiwanis Club of Victoria is fortunate in having been able to include in its programme for "Kiwanis Kapers" the comedy, "Marriage Proposal," which the Beaux-Arts Society will take to London, Ontario, as British Columbia's entry in the Dominion Drama Festival. This play received high praise from the adjudicator at the competition held in Victoria last week, and the sponsors of the show believe a large number of people who were unable to attend the Drama Festival will welcome an opportunity of seeing it as part of the "Kapers" presentation at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Thursday, March 2.

In addition to this play, a variety of other acts are included in the stage show, which will feature Captain Dobbsie as master of ceremonies.

FILM CREW REVIVES ARIZONA GHOST TOWN

The ghost town of Gleason, Arizona, saw its first activity in many years when Producer Harry Sherman arrived there to film scenes for his outdoor romance, "The Mysterious Rider," which will open today at the Columbia Theatre.

Since the Zane Grey story of life in the frontier West required a town in the same stage it was during the West's wildest era, Gleason was selected as typical of a rapidly vanishing type of community.

Gleason, once a roaring copper mining town, celebrated the occasion in the right spirit. Every one of the inhabitants accepted a role in the picture. There were exactly twelve of them!

Puppet Show Has Artistic Presentation

Entertainment that is unique of its kind is now presented from the stage of the Oak Bay Theatre. Fantasy has become reality to the capacity audiences which have filled the house since Monday, the day the original Hollywood Marionette Theatre gave its opening presentation of "Puppets on Parade" here.

Under the expert manipulation of Gordon Graves and Joseph Finley, some seventy-five puppets make their appearance in a series of scenes that are a delight both in clever presentation and beautiful costumes. The whole is accompanied by musical and vocal effects that are little short of amazing.

Taking the form of a revue, there is infinite variety, ranging from the picturesque dancing of "In a Russian Village" to the side-splitting antics of daring death-defying "Dora," the trapeze artist. Perhaps one of the most striking is the introduction of "Fu Manchu and Company," for the lavish costumes and setting are scarcely belied by the life-like movements of the "actors". It is hard to believe that these are puppets, the moving strings are forgotten as the audience follows the sequence. The three-foot figures move and live in surroundings that are perfectly proportioned, and the unreality comes only with the appearance of the directors, revealing by comparison the true size of the marionettes and setting.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Stage

Oak Bay—Graves and Finley's Original Hollywood Marionette Theatre in "Puppets on Parade."

On the Screen

Atlas — "The Citadel," with Robert Donat.

Capitol— "The Lady Vanishes," starring Margaret Lockwood.

Columbia — "The Mysterious Rider," with Douglass Dumbrille.

Dominion — Claudette Colbert as "Zaza."

Oak Bay — Mickey Rooney in "You're Only Young Once."

Plaza—"Painted Desert," starring George O'Brien.

DOMINION THEATRE The gaudy, lusty turn-of-the-century days when "Zaza," the music hall darling set all Paris swooning with a swish of her skirt, are brought back with all their color and lavishness in "Zaza," the new Claudette Colbert film, which will close tonight at the Dominion Theatre.

OAK BAY THEATRE Graves and Finley's original Hollywood Marionette Theatre is now presenting "Puppets on Parade" on the stage of the Oak Bay Theatre. A variety programme consisting of circus interludes, musical comedy numbers, songs and dances, is performed by seventy-five puppets, all life-size in appearance. Mickey Rooney is starred in the screen attraction, "You're Only Young Once."

'PAINTED DESERT' IS NOW AT PLAZA

George O'Brien Stars in Western Romance, With Laraine Johnson Opposite

The partnership between a young cattleman and a prospector's granddaughter to develop a mine that the girl thinks she owns but doesn't, forms the theme of "Painted Desert," George O'Brien's action picture, which will open today at the Plaza Theatre.

O'Brien is starred, and Laraine Johnson, who played opposite him in his recent "Border G-Man," again has the feminine lead in this offering. The mine, a vein of unusually rich tungsten ore, in reality belongs to O'Brien, but out of consideration for the girl he allows her to believe she is the owner, and this leads to a sparkling romantic situation, as well as to plenty of thrills and excitement when a group of bandits attempt to wrest control of the property.

STERLING HOLLOWAY PLAYS IMPORTANT ROLE

"Tomorrow's Children," starring Diane Sinclair with Sterling Holloway, will open at the Plaza Theatre on Monday.

The plot deals with a young girl about to marry, who is almost condemned to a court action because she is believed to be the daughter of morons with criminal ancestors. It develops, just in time, that she is not of their blood and consequently is saved from humiliation and permitted to marry the young man of her choice.

Court Allows Claim For Damage to Car

In a County Court judgment handed down yesterday by Judge H. H. Shandley, Arthur S. Anderson was awarded $90 damages and costs against Colin Smith for automobile damage sustained in a collision at Pandora Avenue and Cook Street last December 7. A counter-claim of $30.75 for damage sustained by Mr. Smith's car was dismissed with costs.

Judge Shandley stated in his judgment: "A driver on the right is entitled to the right-of-way provided he exercises proper care. Not to look to his left is not exercising proper care, and, therefore, he loses the benefit of the statutory provision."

GOES TO CUMBERLAND

NANAIMO, Feb. 22.—J. Stockoluk, district representative of the United Mine Workers of America, of Calgary, arrived at Nanaimo on the noon boat today and left with W. Atkinson, Nanaimo district secretary, for Cumberland, to attend a mass meeting of miners to discuss the walkout of 500 miners there.

ESQUIMALT IS REARRANGED

Twenty-Seven Polling Divisions Created in Provincial Riding

Polling divisions established two years ago in the provincial riding of Esquimalt were canceled yesterday by order-in-council, in favor of the multiple-poll plan already arranged in Vancouver and Victoria ridings.

Esquimalt will have eleven polling divisions within its municipal area, and one each at the following outlying district:

OUTLYING POLLS

Bamberton, Clo-oose, Cobble Hill, Colwood, East Sooke, Jordan River, Kapoor, Langford, Luxton, Metchosin, Otter Point, Port Renfrew, Shawnigan Lake, Shirley, Sooke and View Royal.

That makes a total of twenty-seven polling divisions for the provincial riding, the voters' list being split up accordingly. The provincial order was passed without comment, and will take effect at the next provincial election.

In the Greater Victoria area, only Saanich now remains on the former basis, with the exception of the Gordon Head area to be ceded after dissolution to the provincial riding of Oak Bay.

TENTATIVE PLANS MADE BY MAYOR

procession in the afternoon would take in Macdonald Park, where it was proposed to assemble the school children of Victoria and from Up-Island points. If the longer afternoon procession were approved, school children in Esquimalt, Saanich and Oak Bay could be massed near the schools in their own municipalities.

The suggested programme submitted by the Mayor was as follows:

MONDAY, MAY 29

"On arrival at Belleville Street, the Royal party will be met by the Mayor and Mrs. McGavin, and will then go direct to Government House by the shortest possible route; details of the route to be arranged later. Guard of honor at the boat. Bands will be arranged for.

TUESDAY, MAY 30

"In the morning, on arrival at the City Hall, a massed choir will be in attendance to sing one verse of 'God Save the King' and one verse of 'Land of Hope and Glory.' A guard of honor will be requested from the permanent forces, and a band also will be in attendance.

"The Royal party will proceed to the City Council Chamber, where an address will be presented, followed by the presentation of aldermen and their wives, and Vancouver Island mayors and reeves and their wives. The presentations in the City Hall should not take longer than ten minutes.

"The procession will then leave for the Legislative Buildings, where it is understood the ceremony will occupy about one hour. The approximate time for the morning procession, including the ceremony at the Buildings, will not exceed one hour and fifty minutes.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON

"In the afternoon the procession will proceed to Macdonald Park, where the school children of Victoria and Up-Island centres will be assembled, and Their Majesties can drive round the grounds. Should His Majesty present colors to the Royal Canadian Navy, this ceremony should take place at Macdonald Park.

"If the route suggested is approved, the school children in Esquimalt, Saanich and Oak Bay would be gathered at their own schools, which would relieve congestion in Macdonald Park and also in the city. If there is no naval ceremony in Macdonald Park, the rate of progress along the route could be slowed down to compensate for the time such ceremony would take but in any event two hours would be sufficient for the afternoon procession, and probably less if the naval ceremony is eliminated.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 31

"On the morning of departure, it is believed that there will be a guard of honor at the boat, and if ex-servicemen are required for police duty on May 30, it is suggested that all ex-servicemen could gather on Belleville Street on that morning.

"It is understood that the grounds at the Legislative Buildings would be available for special groups such as Brownies, Wolf Cubs, Girl Guides and amputation cases."

Mayor McGavin pointed out that the problems of policing, parking arrangements, sanitary arrangements, care of the school children, first aid arrangements and similar matters would entail a great deal of work, and at his suggestion the meeting approved the appointment of the following committees to take care of these details:

COMMITTEES STRUCK

Arrangements for Up-Island Children—Alderman W. H. Davies. To be left with Local Council of Women and affiliated organizations, Guides to Macdonald Park, first aid stations in Macdonald Park, meals, etc.).

Lambrick (Saanich), Reeve Alex Lockley (Esquimalt), Councillor William Ellis (Oak Bay) and representatives of the ex-servicemen's organizations, to arrange reserved areas, lining the route, and police duties.

Parking Arrangements—Alderman Edward Williams, Duncan MacBride and F. W. Wilfert, to arrange for parking places and clearing the streets of cars.

Take Your Mirror to the window—look well at your face—others do! How does it pass the test? Is it all clear and smooth—"a skin you love to touch," or is it all disfigured with unsightly superfluous hair and moles? Never mind! Do not be down-hearted; all these blemishes may be removed safely, positively and absolutely—and the cost will be within your means, so do not suffer the torture of miserable self-consciousness one moment longer—it is such a drawback, such a handicap, and truly needless. Pimples Kill Many a Romance

The lives of many young people are made miserable by the breaking out of pimples on the face.

The trouble is not so much physical pain, but it is the mental suffering caused by the embarrassing disfigurement of the face which very often makes the sufferer ashamed to go out in company.

The quickest way to get rid of pimples is to improve the general health by a thorough cleansing of the blood of its impurities.

Burdock Blood Bitters cleanses and purifies the blood—get rid of your pimples by taking B.B.B.

LOCAL COUNCIL HOLDS SESSION

Mrs. Thomas Bingham, of Vancouver, Speaks on Edinburgh Conference

The important part of world peace by arbitration, or world peace by international co-operation in the discussions of the International Council of Women in conference at Edinburgh last July, was one of the special points emphasized by Mrs. Thomas Bingham, president of the Vancouver Local Council, in an exhaustive survey of the Edinburgh conference she gave at the afternoon session of the Victoria Local Council's annual meeting here yesterday afternoon.

A delegate from British Columbia to the Edinburgh conference, Mrs. Bingham gave a picture of the thirty-eight international gathering, recalling many of the highlights of the principal general and special sessions of the discussions thereat, and mentioning many outstanding personalities, foremost among whom was Lady Aberdeen, the venerable and loved founder of an organization which now embraces women from most of the leading countries of the world. With delegates from thirty-six countries present, it was veritably "a babel of foreign tongues," she said, paying a glowing tribute to the hospitable welcome given by the people of Edinburgh, and the several elaborate luncheons, dinners and receptions tendered by the Lord Provost, the city, and the women of the ancient Scottish capital.

"We were all there to work together to the end that the status of women should be definitely raised everywhere to that of men, and that there should be equality of rights between men and women in many fields, always with the underlying idea that men and women should work together as helpmates in making world peace an irrevocable fact," said Mrs. Bingham in conclusion.

The council's thanks were expressed by Mrs. H. P. Hodges.

FOREST PROTECTION

With the aid of movie film Mr. Melrose, of the B.C. Forestry Department, gave a splendid lesson on the necessity of guarding the forests against destruction by fire. Forestry in this province, he said, was the most important subject that could be discussed, forests being the greatest of British Columbia's natural resources and one of the best avenues of employment. If the forests disappeared the province's material welfare would be severely decimated.

Fire was the forest's worst enemy. The picture used to demonstrate this was taken during the serious forest fire in the Campbell River area last year, when the damage ran into millions of dollars, and the actual destruction of trees was enormous.

YOUTH TRAINING

At the morning session Colonel F. F. Fairey gave a talk on the Dominion-Provincial youth training plan. Of the $310,000 budget of last year the Province had provided 50 per cent, the Dominion a similar amount. Under the direction of Mr. Eisenhart, training had been conducted in forestry, mining and physical training, the last under about 100 instructors, reaching 23,000 people.

The men in the mining group were in two main centres, Emily Creek camp, for placer mining, where the men were also taught first aid and cooking; and at Quesnel Forks, where hard-rock mining was taken. About 50 per cent of the students were now in employment. The rural occupation group, in charge of Dr. Schrum, was giving useful instruction in farm life—study of soil, tree pruning, weaving, spinning and other handicrafts, and, for leisure time, in public speaking. The urban groups were in charge of Colonel Fairey, and included instruction in woodwork, house building, motor mechanics, electrical work, radio repair, paper hanging and plastering. A class in Diesel engineering was popular. For girls the home service training centres in Victoria and Vancouver were popular.

At the morning session yesterday Alderman Morgan was present to represent Mayor Andrew McGavin and extend greetings. Referring to the forthcoming visit of the King and Queen, he expressed the confident hope that the city would have the co-operation of the women of the city in the preparations for the royal reception.

Mrs. Bertha Parsons and her committee had charge of the able tea arrangements yesterday.

FIX DATES FOR B.C. FESTIVAL

Club, of Salmon Arm; Fruitvale Dramatic Society; Clayton Dramatic Society, of Cloverdale; South Cowichan Amateur Theatrical Society, the Woodfibre Little Theatre, and St. Mark's A.Y.P.A. of Parksville, and the Erinlea Drama Club, of Cecil Lake, and in addition twenty new members were enrolled.

The new Fraser Canyon Drama District Association was officially recognized and the proposed district Festival at Lytton authorized. The suggested Comox district Festival in May was also approved.

The meeting was informed of the co-operation of a number of Canadian playwrights who have consented to allow their plays to be used without royalty by the affiliated groups.

The development of and widespread interest in the Canadian Drama Award was felt to be a matter for satisfaction, since it was the provincial association which first brought the C.D.A. into existence.

The executive will continue their encouragement of Oriental and native Indian drama groups. It will be remembered that last year's provincial Festival marked the first appearance of a Chinese Canadian drama group.

CHALLENGE CUP

It was decided to offer a challenge cup for the best play by a British Columbia author which has not yet been produced.

A questionnaire for the representatives on the advisory board was approved by the committee and will be sent to all Little Theatres in the province.

The newly-formed Festival advisory board was felt to be of great value to the association. Among the personnel of this board are: the president or elected representative of the Business and Professional Women's Club, the Kiwanis Club, Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E., Senior Chamber of Commerce, Soroptimists' Club, the University Women's Club, the Victoria Canadian Club, the Victoria Gyro Club, the Women's Canadian Club, and the Y.P. For the extra lively Flavor that pleases the menfolk

Ask any husband what his pet food-hate is and ten to one he'll say "food that isn't tasty enough." The way to overcome this? Add a little Yorkshire Relish to stews, meatloaf, cheese savories, fish relishes, casseroles.

No other sauce can give such cunning flavor. Yorkshire Relish is the concentrated essence of over twenty fruits, herbs and spices, chosen for their unique flavoring qualities, matured—like wine—for four years to give you a hot, sweet, mellow flavor-maker.

Serve Yorkshire Relish also as a table sauce. Men especially like it, and its flavor is so concentrated you can use it quite sparingly.

Try its taste before you cook.

Try this and see how flavorful Yorkshire Relish is. Pour a few drops into a teaspoon, then sip it. What flavor! Hot, yet sweet! No other sauce can impart such delicious flavor to your cooking.

A SNAPPY SUPPER DISH — CHEESE RELISH

2 cups grated cheese
6 slices bacon.
1 egg.
1 tablespoonful butter.
½ teaspoonful salt.
Small half teaspoonful mustard.
Dash of paprika.
1 teaspoonful Yorkshire Relish.
6 slices of bread.

Beat egg. Add cheese, butter, seasonings, and Yorkshire Relish. Mix to paste and spread thickly on slices of bread. Top each with a slice of bacon and bake 7 or 8 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve hot with olives, chopped celery or pickles.

Is Again Leader of Council

DR. OLGA JARDINE

Who yesterday, for the third consecutive term, was elected president of the Victoria Local Council of Women, whose forty-fourth annual meeting is now in progress at the Sons of England Hall, Broad Street. Dr. Jardine gave a very able address at the morning session yesterday. The meeting will continue today, with morning and afternoon sessions.

Affiliated societies reporting during the day included the Catholic Women's League, Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Victoria branch B'nai Brith and the Mothers' Union.

IMMIGRATION

Among the interesting morning reports was that on immigration, by the convener of the standing committee, Mrs. W. J. H. Holmes. During the past year, she stated, no forward movement had been made by the Canadian Government to resume any definite policy of immigration, but the problem was receiving serious consideration both by the Federal and Provincial Governments. According to the report of the Department of Resources, immigration into Canada had increased more than 15 per cent in the six months ending last September 3, compared with the same period of the previous year. In six months 10,784 persons had entered the country compared with 9,272 in the same 1937 period. Of this number the United States had been the heaviest single contributor with 4,262, an increase of 3.7 per cent. Of this number 2,728 were returning Canadian-born citizens. The United Kingdom and Ireland came second with 2,210; Northern European races sent 867, and other races 4,362.

FARMING CLASSES

Farming classes led on the occupations of those admitted, sending 3,393. Trading classes came second with 784. Of the 10,784 admitted to Canada during the year 4,123 were adult females, 4,094 children under eighteen, and 2,567 adult males. Ontario had received the largest number of immigrants, viz., 4,256. British Columbia came fifth with 918. Naturalization figures for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1938, showed a slight decline from the previous year. A total of 27,455 new Canadians obtained naturalization rights in the year compared with 37,744 in the preceding year. The greatest number of naturalized citizens gave Poland as their country of origin, numbering 7,871.

Speaking of the Oriental situation in British Columbia, the report noted that "contrary to a fairly widespread impression in British Columbia," the number of Japanese illegally resident in Canada at present was not in excess of 100.

A brief summary of the Fairbridge Farm School was contained, showing there were at present 191 children at the school.

LEGISLATION REPORT

Much of the legislation in British Columbia, purporting to give a high status of equality, fairer treatment and greater protection to women and children, had been worked for and sponsored by the Local Council of Women, said Dr. Jardine, in her report as convener of the standing committee on legislation, in submitting her annual report. Many who were today enjoying the benefits of such legislation little realized the hard work and the persistent efforts required to bring about these improvements and the need for even greater participation, on women's part, in public affairs when events of recent times had shown the dangers which surrounded democracy and democratic principles.

The formation of study groups was a gratifying achievement during the past year. There was also a review in this report of legislation affecting women in Austria, Bulgaria, Czecho-Slovakia, Denmark, Holland, Italy, Northern Ireland, Norway, Poland, Rumania, Sweden, Hungary, Turkey and Russia.

EDUCATION

As convener of the standing committee on education, Mrs. A. S. Christie specially referred to the opening of the new food laboratory at Victoria High School during the past year. This had completed the equipment necessary for a full home economics course, and had an enrollment of 184 girls as compared with seventy-three last year. The school board hoped to have a similar centre at the Central Junior High School in the near future. The next move, she hoped, would be the chair for home economics at the University of British Columbia.

The report mentioned the development in the Junior High School; the popularity of the evening classes, which had an enrollment of 1,150 students as compared with 889 the previous year; the increased attention being given to visual education, and the help given by the teachers and parent-teacher associations.

Prizes Won For Essays

A gathering of Victorians interested in the household training course which is being carried on under the auspices of the Provincial Government and the Y.W.C.A. met in the B.C. Electric Company's demonstration room, Douglas Street, yesterday, when members of the class, which has almost finished its course, gave a demonstration and served tea.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Foulds, B.C. Electric demonstrator, a chicken dinner was cooked, an angel cake made and cookies baked. Miss Doris Jones, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A., was introduced and extended a welcome to the class to make full use of the Y.W.C.A. whenever possible, assuring them of a welcome.

Colonel F. F. Fairey, of the technical branch of the Department of Education, spoke a few words, thanking the B.C. Electric Company for its kindness in lending equipment for practice purposes and in allowing Mrs. Foulds to give so much of valuable time in helping the girls, which she did without remuneration. Everything possible had been done, he said, to give the class a good grounding and it was "up to them" to take advantage of their opportunities.

Mrs. G. M. Tripp, wife of the general superintendent of the company, made a gracious little speech, advising the class members to set for themselves a high standard in all their work and to carry on in a cheerful and willing manner. She presented three special prizes, to Beryl Maynard, Elsie Wilhan and Eileen Blaney, for the best papers written on the use of electrical appliances.

Tea was then served, and in a contest, the chicken dinner was won by Mr. Adam Bell, deputy minister of labor.

Clubs-Societies

Qualicum L.A.

A delightful entertainment was staged in the Qualicum Beach Community Hall on Saturday evening, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Qualicum United Church. The opening piece, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," with a junior cast, included Pat Sanders in the leading role, Helen Welch as the prince, Gloria Sanders as the queen, and seven younger players, including a delightful Dopey, played by Betty May Robertson, aged five. The effective costuming and spirited acting were most creditable, and the director was Mrs. F. Gillan, with Mrs. H. J. Welch as accompanist. Several musical numbers included the songs made famous in the film version. Two other plays were "The Great White Sale" and "The Barbarous Work," with adult casts. Mr. E. Sanders sang Handel's "Where'er You Walk" as a vocal number, and Mrs. P. Eggersman, "Neapolitan Nights," while much interest was shown in a brilliant gymnastic display of vaulting, tumbling and club-swinging by a Nanaimo athletic club, under the direction of Mr. Haig Burns. Rev. J. A. Petrie acted as master of ceremonies.

What Today Means

"PISCES"

If February 23 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.; from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m.; from [illegible] p.m. and from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m.

You may have a very good idea this day, but it will be of no value unless you are wise enough to put it to practical use. A tendency to put off until "tomorrow" things that should be done this day, is apt to prevail. In commercial circles, the desire to be sociable will be responsible for a lot of valuable time being wasted in the entertainment of people with a lot of unprofitable talk. In many households there are likely to be many a "little rift within the lute," due to the obstinacy of some member of it being wedded to an opinion. This is a day when mulishness will not pay. Trouble may arise through people giving too free a rein to their imaginations, particularly should the results be in any form of distorted statements or exaggerations. Married and engaged couples, and sweethearts building matrimonial air castles together must do their utmost to get through the day without squabbling or quarreling.

If a woman and February 23 is your birthday, you may dislike burdening other people with your troubles, with the result you might be considered secretive by many of your intimates. While, perhaps, slow to anger, once aroused no one will ever doubt your ability to get thoroughly mad. You are inclined to be cautious, especially in matters involving money. You ought to be a convincing talker, and an excellent listener, with an unusually retentive memory. You seem to be destined to have many social and business advantages. You may be numbered among the successful women teachers, restaurant managers, writers, saleswomen, real estate or insurance brokers or specialty show operators if you engage in any one of these activities. You ought to know how to make your home a [illegible] life everything a [illegible] could desire.

The child born on February 23 is usually a [illegible] with [illegible] abilities. An energetic nature, with a desire to win the approval and admiration of its family and friends, will sharpen this youngster's aspirations to make some meritorious records of itself.

If a man and February 23 is your natal day, your deductions as a rule should be excellent. You are likely to stick to your convictions, regardless of how much courage it might take to do so. As an actor, chemist, clergyman, business organizer, artist or author your achievements may be outstanding.

MINISTER TO SPEAK

CIENCIA IS EASY WINNER OF $50,000 HANDICAP

IS FIVE LENGTHS IN FRONT AT FINISH OF CALIFORNIA CLASSIC

Filly Captures Top Money of $41,850 at Santa Anita Track by Wide Margin—Xalapa Clown Is Second and Impound Is Given Third Spot—Porter's Mite Takes Fourth

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22 (AP).—Ciencia won the $50,000 Santa Anita Derby today. Xalapa Clown placed second. Impound was declared third, with Porter's Mite fourth after a photo finish. Time for the mile and one furlong race, in which fourteen started, was 1:50 3-5.

Ciencia, one of three fillies in the race, moved into the lead coming down the stretch and won by five lengths over Xalapa Clown. Porter's Mite and Impound had been the favorites to win the race.

The photo for third was between Impound and Porter's Mite. Impound was declared third, with Porter's Mite fourth.

It was a bitterly-fought race, with Xalapa Clown taking a lead on the back stretch and leading the pack down the track by more than a length. The Mite was back, but began coming up as they rounded the far turn, but Carroll Bierman, aboard Ciencia, carrying the colors of the King Ranch, of Texas, took charge and moved across the finish line going away.

Ciencia paid $19.80, $9 and $5; Xalapa Clown $11.60 and $6.60, and Impound $3.80.

Ciencia, said to be a nominee for the Kentucky Derby, added the $41,850 to her previous winnings of $11,780. She won her last start at Santa Anita over Roman Hero and War Moon, but early in January was beaten by seven lengths by her filly rival of today, Norman Church's well regarded Sweet Nancy.

Trained by W. J. Hirsch, Ciencia is owned by Robert Kleberg, of Texas.

The crowd wagered $1,269,378 on the day's eight-race card. The handle of Derby Day last year was $1,370,785.

BENNY LYNCH REMANDED

HAMILTON, Scotland, Feb. 22 (CP).—The trial of Benny Lynch, former world's flyweight boxing champion, on a charge of assaulting his wife, an eighteen-month-old son, an eleven-year-old stepdaughter and three policemen, today was fixed for March 6. The boxer was released in bail of £5.

EXPLANATION FOR SUNDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Gruesome Heritage—Joseph Boniface de La Mole, who was executed in 1574 for being involved in a conspiracy to further the royal claims of the brother of Queen Marguerite de Navarre (1553-1615), requested that his head be turned over to his beloved Marguerite for safekeeping. Marguerite kept the head of her lover embalmed in her boudoir to the day of her death, for forty-one years. She knelt before this gruesome heritage every day, and kissed it with tear-stained lips.

Horse Buried in Cemetery for Humans—Bob, a horse owned by the local undertaker, was buried in the Lake View Cemetery at Sanford, Fla., in recognition of his twenty-eight years of service pulling the hearse to and from it. The grave is marked by a sculptured headstone.

Leaps Off Brooklyn Bridge—So dangerous is a dive off Brooklyn Bridge, over the East River, New York City, that Steve Brodie won fame by throwing a dummy off the bridge, and being hauled out of the river which he entered from a tugboat. But William Cruickshank, of White Plains, actually did make the 133-foot dive, as the result of a $500 wager by his friends that he wouldn't dare. He struck the water head foremost and started to swim ashore. When the current proved too strong, he grasped some landing lines that were thrown to him and was pulled ashore.

VANCOUVER LAWN BOWLER PASSES

VANCOUVER, Feb. 22 (CP).—One of Vancouver's best-known lawn bowlers, W. W. "Billy" Wilson, died in hospital yesterday of complications following a nine-day illness. About fifty-five years of age, Mr. Wilson was one of the Cedar Cottage Lawn Bowling Club's leading skips. Last Summer he captured the Hudson's Bay rink trophy in the Vancouver and District Association competitions. He had won nearly every trophy at stake during British Columbia tournament week at one time or another and was well-known to the majority of lawn bowlers in the province.

He was also a crack rifle shot. In his younger days he traveled all over Scotland displaying his prowess. He also played soccer for Queen's Park Strollers, the second team of the famous Scottish amateur club, Queen's Park.

Hudson's Bay Held to Tie By Victoria City Eleven

Departmental Footballers Take Over First Place In Pendray Cup Race in Wednesday League Despite Draw With Cellar Team

PENDRAY CUP SERIES

	W.	L.	D.	F.	A.	P.
				Goals
Hudson's Bay	3	1	1	13	6	7
Spencers	3	2	0	10	8	6
Navy	2	1	0	8	3	4
Victoria City	0	4	1	4	18	1

Yesterday's score:
Hudson's Bay 2, Victoria City 2.

Victoria City, lowly cellar occupants in Wednesday Football League race, narrowly missed scoring the season's upset yesterday afternoon at Royal Athletic Park. Leading the Hudson's Bay, co-holders of top berth with Spencers, by a 2-1 score seven minutes from full time, the maroon-sweatered City players had to be content with a 2-2 stalemate when Jack Okell bagged the equalizing tally.

City surprised the handful of fans by giving the Bays a real battle, and with just a little luck would have finished on the right end of the score. They fielded eleven men, something they had not been able to do for a few weeks, and turned in their best battle of the season.

Lacking real scoring punch in their front line, Victoria City presented a good defence, and that portion of their game was brilliant. And then Charlie Sadler, their goalie, who has turned in a number of good performances, was again in top form.

BREAKS FINGER

Late in the final half, Sadler had the misfortune to break the centre finger of his left hand, but this did not stop him from finishing the game. He was given medical attention by members of the St. John's Ambulance Brigade.

City had the better of the play in the opening half, but their forwards lacked drive when close to the Hudson's Bay goal. They missed enough chances to set up a lead, but when the breather arrived the teams were deadlocked in a 1-1 score.

Reg Stofer, Bays' centre forward, tallied the first goal of the match at the thirty-two-minute mark, where he scored from inside the penalty area. One minute before the rest interval, Doug Bourne fired home the equalizer.

Lionel Speller, young Hudson's Bay halfback, sustained an injury to his left ankle just as the half closed and was replaced by Gordon Fish as the final stanza opened.

City took the lead for the first time when Johnny Munroe picked the corner of the net six minutes after the change-over. Taking Bourne's pass from the right lane, Munroe booted the leather well out of the reach of Ab Renfrew, opposing net custodian.

Bays attacked from the centre and swarmed around the City goal like a bunch of bees. They forced three corners, grazed the framework and kept Sadler hopping around like a cat on hot bricks in an effort to bag the tying goal.

Breaking up the offensive, City carried play to the other end of the field and they, too, forced three flag kicks and hit the crossbar. Then, with the goal at his mercy and the ball at his feet, Cain, less than three yards from the posts, drove a weak shot right at Goalie Renfrew. That was the City's best and final opportunity of improving their total in the final forty-five minutes of play.

OKELL EQUALIZES

Bays took up the attack again, and after Sadler had made enough smart saves to win any ball game, Jack Okell netted the tying goal. With only a sharp angle in which to do his shooting, Okell scored the prettiest marker of the match.

In the few remaining minutes the teams tried in vain to break the deadlock.

Shrimpton refereed.

Davis Cup Candidates to Start Play Today in National Tourney

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (AP).—A preview of the Davis Cup team trials gets under way at the Seventh Regiment tomorrow, with three of the leading candidates for berths on the United States squad topping the seeded list in the national indoor tennis championships.

Wayne Sabin, of Portland, Ore., going great guns down South this Winter, has been seeded No. 1 in front of Gene Mako, No. 3 ranking player, and Sidney Wood, blond New Yorker, who came back last year to earn the No. 4 spot. Sabin was unranked in 1938 because of illness which prevented him from competing in a sufficient number of tournaments.

Sabin, Wood, Gregory Mangin and J. Gilbert Hall are the only ones of the eight seeded players among the field of sixty-four scheduled to see action the first day.

Mako and the three other seeded players—Frank J. Bowden, of New York; Joseph Fishback, St. John's University's junior indoor title-holder, and Frank A. Froehling, of Northwestern University—swing into action Friday.

Play will continue until March 4, with titles in women's singles and all phases of the doubles also down for decision.

Grads in Victory

HAMILTON, Ont., Feb. 22 (CP).—Perennial champions of the women's basketball world, Edmonton Grads defeated a Hamilton all-star team, 71-28, tonight, for the 469th victory of their twenty-three years of competition, and the second straight on an Eastern tour which began last night.

Hamilton's representatives, delegated from McMaster University and other district teams, gave what ordinarily would have been a convincing display. But with the diminutive Helen Northup and Noel MacDonald leading the way, Edmonton was the entire show.

Weatherman Aids England in Gaining Stalemate With South Africa in Fourth of Series—Langton Is Outstanding Bowler

JOHANNESBURG, Feb. 22 (CP).—Aided by the weatherman, England carries a one-game advantage into the fifth and final cricket test match against South Africa at Durban, March 4. The fourth match, curtailed by rain, ended today in a draw with the Springboks in a favorable position.

After dismissing the tourists for a first-innings total of 215 runs, South Africa replied with 349 for eight (declared). Going in after lunch today in their second attempt, the Englishmen had made 203 runs for four wickets when play closed.

Batting honors went to Leonard Hutton, Yorkshire star, who compiled 92 runs in England's first innings to save the team from a near rout. He made 32 in his second visit to the wickets. Wally Hammond hit up 61 not out in the second.

E. A. Rowan, Transvaal defensive batsman, was top scorer in the match just concluded with 85. In second place was Alan Melville, Springbok skipper, with 67, while Bruce Mitchell obtained 61.

LEADING BOWLER

Outstanding bowling feat went to A. B. C. Langton, Transvaal spin bowler. In England's first innings he captured five wickets for 58 runs. Norman Gordon, another Transvaal bowler, got three of the four wickets that fell in the Mother Country's second innings for 58 runs.

R. E. Grieveson, who succeeded W. W. Wade as South African wicket-keeper last Saturday, caught two English players and allowed only one extra. His work was even better today, catching three men and allowing only eight extras.

E. S. Newson took a wicket in each innings, made two brilliant catches, and scored 16 runs in his only innings.

Today's draw was the third of the current series. England won at Durban last month by an innings and 13 runs. Since 1888, when the teams first met, England has won twenty-nine matches against the Springboks' twenty-one. There have been twenty-two drawn contests.

The score-card:

England, first innings, 215.

Dominoes Defeat Bearded Aces at Nanaimo 43 to 40

Victoria Basketballers Take Hard-Fought Game From Touring Pros—Teams Will Play Here To-night and Friday—Ladysmith and Y.M.C.A. To Meet in Play-Off Game This Evening

NANAIMO, Feb. 22.—The Victoria Dominoes basketball team took a hard game from the Bearded Aces from the City of David tourists here tonight before four hundred excited fans, by three points, the final score after see-sawing back and forth being 43-40 for the Victoria team. They utilized eight players and made eight substitutions, while the Aces were forced to play through with five men and were worn down by their taller opponents before the game ended.

Hank Rowe opened the scoring for Dominoes one minute after the start and Jackson made it 4-0 half a minute later. Then Dubec cut down the lead by two, 4-2. Victoria made it 6-2, but Aces came back with two in a row to tie. After seven minutes it was 8-8 and at the end of the quarter Aces led 11-10. Early in the second it was 13-13, then went to 22-17 for the bearded men to end a quarter of hard checking and numerous free throws.

Victoria had sent on substitutes three times, but Aces were without subs.

DOMINOES LEAD

Five points up at the start of the third quarter, Aces were scored on by Art Chapman, 22-19. Milheam brought the count to 25-20. Dominoes started scoring and with five minutes gone Chapman tied the count, 26-26, then took the lead with one point on a free throw, tossed in two baskets and were ahead 31-27. At the end of the quarter Victoria led 34-31.

Aces tried long shots early in the final quarter and penalties cost them three points to allow the Dominoes to lead 37-31. With four minutes to go Victoria were leading 37-34 when Aces added two points and trailed by one, 37-36. Aces took time out and Dominoes sent on two substitutes with three minutes to go. Jackson registered a long shot and Rowe scored from close under and Dominoes were leading 41-36. Rowe repeated and it was 43-36. Two free shots and a basket for Aces left them behind three points as the game ended 43-40.

PLAY HERE TONIGHT

Dominoes and Tucker's Bearded Aces open their two-night stand at the Victoria High School Gymnasium this evening. The game is the feature attraction of a triple programme and will get under way about 9:15 o'clock.

CLOWNS BEAT DAVIDANS IN CAGE TUSSLE

Colored Cagers Score 44-34 Win—Unitys and Bombers in Victories

Paced to victory by the smart sniping of Mullins, elusive forward, who scored twenty points, Broadway Clowns, touring colored hoopsters from New York, last night defeated the House of David from Benton Harbor, Mich., 44-34, in an exhibition basketball game played at the High School gymnasium. More than 800 fans saw the quintettes in action.

Pullins proved capable of "potting" the leather from almost any angle on the large maple court and added valuable points in every quarter. He scored the initial basket of the game and gave his teammates a lead they never relinquished during the forty minutes of play.

Clowns finished the first quarter on the right end of a 14-7 count, and with the arrival of the halftime rest interval were still enjoying a seven-point advantage, the score being 23-16.

Scoring eleven points to their opponents' seven in the third quarter, the eventual winners reached the three-quarter mark on the long end of a 34-23 tally. In the final stanza the Davidans outscored the Clowns, 11-10, making the final result: Broadway Clowns, 44; House of David, 34.

Art and Gregory Diem, brother combination, kept the bewhiskered hoopsters close to the Clowns by scoring twenty-five points. Art Diem was high man with fourteen.

SMARTER CLUB

The New Yorkers passed the ball faster, moved quicker on their plays and gave the fans many laughs on their "merry-go-round" offensive. They were the better club last night and were full value for their ten-point victory.

Davidans lacked the markmanship of the Clowns and repeatedly missed easy baskets.

Playing in preliminary games, Bombers, intermediate "B" boys' hoopsters, and Tull's Unitys, intermediate "A" girls' cagers, scored impressive victories in Lower Island play-offs. Bombers defeated Sooke, 51-19, and Unitys whipped Courtenay, 38-11.

Bombers met with little opposition from the visiting Sooke cage squad and after setting up a 19-6 lead in the initial quarter coasted to an easy triumph. The score at halftime was 31-7. In one quarter, the last, the visitors outscored the locals when they dropped home one more field basket.

UNITYS WIN

With Eileen Synder, easily the city's best sharpshooter, getting sixteen points, Coach Walter Yeamans' Unitys had little difficulty defeating Courtenay. The red-sweatered local cagette squad ran up a 19-0 lead at the end of the opening quarter, and reached the halfway mark with the tally 25-3. Unitys added thirteen points in the last half and the visitors scored eight.

Referees—Macmurchie and Levy.

GALENTO BOUT IS POSTPONED

Threatening Weather Forces Promoter to Hold Fight This Evening

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 22 (AP). — Fulfillment of rotund Tony Galento's promise to knock Abe Feldman kicking was delayed at least temporarily today, when their heavyweight scrap was postponed until tomorrow night because of threatening weather.

Two hours after the fighters had weighed in, Promoter George R. K. Carter looked at the overcast sky and decided to put off the bout. The weatherman had predicted fair and cooler weather after a few showers this morning.

Galento and Feldman promptly went back to the gymnasium for additional workouts. Solly Krieger, the National Boxing Association middleweight champion, and Ben Brown, of Atlanta, scheduled for an overweight ten-rounder on the same programme, also went through added light training sessions to keep their edge.

The ticket sale had been brisk and it appeared the gate might range between $25,000 and $30,000, with close to 15,000 in the stadium.

Galento will have a 36½-pound weight advantage over Feldman, who was unanimously conceded no chance of winning and very little of getting past the sixth round. Tony weighed in at 223 to Feldman's 186½.

WHEAT FUTURES LOSE FRACTIONS

WINNIPEG, Feb. 22 (CP).—Fractional losses were recorded by Winnipeg wheat futures today in one of the dullest sessions since the start of 1939. No export sales of Canadian wheat were confirmed and with the United States markets closed for Washington's birthday anniversary, inter-market operations were at a minimum.

Final quotations were 3-8 to 1-4 cent down, May at 62 3-4, July 63 3-8 and October 63 7-8 cents. At Liverpool cautious dealing developed following advices of an Italian-French border incident in Tunisia.

Liverpool values finished 1-4 to 3-8d lower, while Buenos Aires continued unchanged.

Cash wheat interest dropped back into its usual rut following good trade late Tuesday in which mills were credited with taking more than 500,000 bushels of three and four Northern.

Pit-trading coarse grains brought out a little support in oats.

SOME GAINS IN TORONTO MART

CONTRALTO IS VERY POPULAR

Kathryn Meisle Closes Community Concert Association Recitals at Empress

A pure contralto voice of magnificent power, fine range and lustrous quality which she used with real musicianship; a pleasing personality; a programme of well-diversified material—these were among the things which gave memorable character to the Kathryn Meisle recital which last night, at the Empress ballroom, concluded the second of the Victoria Community Concert Association's seasons.

Heralded as leading contralto of the Metropolitan, Kathryn Meisle had a big reputation to sustain. The enthusiasm of her big audience showed that she came up to expectations. And for her part the singer was most gracious and generous in showing her appreciation, adding numerous encore numbers to an already heavy and exacting programme. This ranged through a wide field that demonstrated her great versatility, her numbers including oratorio selections, operatic arias, lieder, ballads; and embracing the magnificently dramatic and dynamic, the tenderly sentimental, the gay, the debonair, the pensive. In every field she seemed completely at home and, thanks to her technical equipment, a spontaneous interpreter of the mood and special character of each song.

Among the treasurable things of her programme were "I Dream of Jeanie" (Foster), the exuberant "I've Been Roaming" (Horn) and the classical "Droop Not, Young Lover," of Handel, in her first group; the humorous "Der Alte Herr" and dramatic "Der Sieger" (Kaun) of her second group; the great aria from "Samson et Dalilah," "Mon Coeur S'Ouvre a ta Voix," seductive and persuasive; "None but the Lonely Heart" (Tschaikowsky); "The Day Is No More" (Carpenter), one of the loveliest things in her fifth group, which she sang with appealing Sympathy of tone; the beautiful "Baby's Night Song," in pianissimo throughout; the mocking "Habanera," from "Carmen"; and, among her many delightful encores, Stanford's Irish peasant song, and "Come In Out of It." Her prepared programme had seventeen numbers, and to this she added seven or eight encores. Her accompanist, Frederick Bristol, gave admirable and artistic support.

Mrs. Allon Peebles, president of the Community Concert Association, announced that the series had now grown so popular that consideration would have to be given, in the new series, to means of limiting the membership so as to accommodate it to the Empress ballroom.

Aid for Chinese Is Dispatched by Local Committee

Activities of the committee for medical aid for China over the past month made it possible to send $150, equivalent to 506 Hongkong dollars, for Chinese relief with the shipment of bandages which was dispatched by the Ss. Empress of Japan on Saturday. This amount was made up of donations brought to headquarters at 1426 Government Street and proceeds of a rummage sale and money boxes in Chinese stores.

Six cases were shipped, containing clothes for refugees and 2,000 bandages and dressings, sterilized through the courtesy of the Jubilee Hospital. These supplies are being sent to the China Defence League in Hongkong for Dr. Richard Hrown, who is establishing the International Peace Hospital in China.

A medical aid unit is being established in Sidney, and several Up-Island towns are interested. Another collection of linen was brought into the office from Duncan a few days ago. A sympathetic benefactor has promised a gift of new material for bandages each month. Also some small pieces of gold and old jewelry have been given to the committee with the request that they be sold for the cause.

CANADIAN FILM ACTOR ARRIVES IN VICTORIA

Cecil Broadhurst, Canadian actor, who has the leading role in the motion picture "Youth Marches On," filmed in Regina, which is to begin at the Capitol Theatre today, arrived in Victoria yesterday. Mr Broadhurst, the "singing cowboy" of the picture, is engaged on a coast-to-coast tour, making personal appearances wherever the picture is shown, under the sponsorship of Famous Players. Mr. Broadhurst spent a year and a half touring England and the Continent with the picture.

PARKS COMMITTEE PLANS CITY WORK

Headed by Alderman S. H. Okell, the City Council parks committee visited Stadacona, Victoria West, Beacon Hill and Central Parks yesterday afternoon with a view to planning necessary improvements. Alderman Okell anticipated that an application would be received to hold a carnival at Royal Athletic Park late in May.

The committee decided not to remove alternate boulevard trees on Bank Street. An application from the Victoria Archery Club for space on which to build an outdoor range will be discussed in detail with club officials at the next meeting, Alderman Okell stated.

OUTSIDERS ARE COMING

Seattle and Prairie Golfers Already Entered in Empress Tourney

The eleventh annual Empress Winter golf tournament is now less than two weeks away and entries are coming in from widely separated parts of the West for the popular six-day amateur meet, which will get under way at the seaside Oak Bay course on March 6, continuing until Saturday, March 11, when thirty-six-hole finals will decide the winner of the featured Sir Edward Beatty Handicap Trophy.

Seattle, as usual, is sending a good-sized contingent to Canada's unique Winter golf classic. Among those already enrolled from the Puget Sound city are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burns, George S. Ripley, Paul Glaser, and many others are expected on opening day. Among entries from Vancouver are Colonel and Mrs. Gus Lyons and J. W. Pattinson, while the following are enrolled from east of the Rockies: Mr. and Mrs. Angus McNeill, Saskatoon; Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Barker, and J. Tynan, Calgary; C. W. Nicholl, Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. H. U. Johnstone, Camrose, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morris, Edmonton; R. P. Barnes, Coleman, Alta., and Dr. William Thomson and Robert Martin, Regina.

Eighteen-hole qualifying rounds will start the international tourney off on Monday, March 6. Players qualify for sixteen berths in men's and women's sections of the Sir Edward Beatty Handicap event, and for as many places in the Victoria Chamber of Commerce men's amateur open event. The Jack Matson inter-district team match event also is settled on the basis of the qualifying round, as are the men's and women's team match trophies. Play continues throughout the week in the featured competitions as well as numerous flights and consolation events designed to provide a tournament giving players the maximum amount of golf.

CONSIDER PLAN FOR CHILDREN TO VISIT HERE TO SEE KING

DUNCAN, Feb. 22. — Seventeen people attended a meeting at the City Hall last night to consider plans for local school children to see the King and Queen on the occasion of Their Majesties' visit to Victoria. School boards represented included Mill Bay, Cobble Hill, Fairbridge, Koksilah, Lake Cowichan, Youbou, North Cowichan, Duncan Consolidated and Queen Margaret's School.

It was estimated that accommodation would be required for fifteen hundred children, and negotiations for transporting them by train are in hand. It is planned to have a teacher or other supervisor for each twenty children. It is understood that room will be found for them at Macdonald Park, where bleachers are to be erected.

Mayor Greig, of Duncan, and Reeve Chapman, of North Cowichan, will visit Victoria to make final arrangements.

MALAHAT BOARD OF TRADE ENDORSES PLAN TO SAVE FINE TREES

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, Feb. 22.—An exceptionally large attendance marked the monthly meeting of the Malahat Board of Trade in the S.L.A.A. Hall, with the president, H. E. Hawking, presiding. One new member was admitted and another nominated.

A letter from the Port Alberni Board of Trade re the Stamp Falls Park project, was read and the suggested conservation plan was strongly endorsed by the local board. A communication to this effect was sent to the Minister of Lands.

The completion of the road circling the lake by connecting the Halhead and West Side Roads was advocated, and will be taken up with the Minister of Public Works. The Public Works Department will also be urged to go ahead with the pile-driving project at the lake outlet.

The next session of the board will be the annual meeting.

STRANGE MESSAGE STARTS SEARCH

ported she was near the "PECC" position and was making rapid headway under forced draft.

Meanwhile, Portuguese naval authorities said they had not dispatched rescue ships from the Azores because they believed other shipping was much nearer.

Because the SOS was not repeated, radio officials expressed the view that if the call was genuine, the torpedoed vessel had plunged to the bottom.

ON SHIPPING ROUTE

The SOS gave a latitude and longitude that would have placed the vessel less than a thousand miles from the coast of Africa, and almost due south of the Azores. This route would be followed by a vessel bound from the Mediterranean to the Panama Canal, but would have placed the ship far to the west of the area where the submarines of Spanish General Francisco Franco have been operating, and far to the east of the area where the United States fleet is engaged in war games.

SAYS AGREEMENT NULLIFIES SYSTEM

the end of three years, Great Britain will have made other arrangements and have forgotten all about the Dominions who tried to get away from the Ottawa agreements."

Joseph Needham (S.C., The Battlefords), said first concern of the Government should be the welfare of the Canadian people.

"I do not rise to condemn this trade agreement," said Mr. Needham, "but I wish there had been coupled with it a policy outlining some benefits to our own Canadian people. I am not so much concerned with foreign markets as with markets at home."

Present troubles were due to restricted consumption at home rather than restricted exports. Restricted consumption meant restricted markets and restricted purchasing power. Prices of all products should be regulated on the basis of cost of production plus a reasonable commission, Mr. Needham said.

SUPPORTS AGREEMENT

Ralph Maybank (Liberal, Winnipeg South Centre), said he was "heartily in favor of the agreement" because of the tariff reductions it brings and the tendency it would have to lower the cost of production to the primary producer.

Gordon Graydon (Conservative, Peel), said farmers were disappointed at the quota on cattle. They expected Canada would be able to ship 60,000 head a quarter at the lower rate of duty but the quota for the first quarter was already exhausted due to the inclusion of Mexican cattle in the total. Vegetable growers would also suffer from lessened protection and a shortening of the period in which seasonal values for duty are applied.

A. E. MacLean (Liberal, Prince), praised the agreement and particularly the clauses relating to potatoes. Representing a large potato-growing area in Prince Edward Island, Mr. MacLean said the reduced duty and increased quotas conceded by the United States offered the possibility of marketing sufficient potatoes in the United States to bring a measure of prosperity to the growers.

SILVER MARKETS

LONDON, Feb. 22 (AP)—Bar silver 20 5-8d, off 1-16.

MONTREAL, Feb. 22 (CP)—Silver futures closed steady and unchanged today. No sales. Bids, February 43.05; March 41.50.

According to Culbertson

Going over the answers to the examination I was glad to find that there is one bidding sequence which is thoroughly understood by the public at large. That is the proper conventional response to an opening two-bid. Question 48 proves this point:

Both sides vulnerable, the bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
2 ♦	Pass	?

You are South and hold:

♠ A J 4 ♥ K Q 3 ♦ 7 5 2 ♣ 6 4 3 2

What call do you make?

Of the 20,005 answers sent to my office, 16,381 had the correct answer three no trump; 2,719 timid souls were apparently unimpressed by their two-plus honor tricks and responded with a demure two no trump; 452 bid three diamonds. These answers at least had the merit of being positive responses, but, I am afraid, not very good ones.

Four hundred and sixteen for some reason thought well of a two heart response; thirty-seven split their votes among four no trump, three clubs, and five no trump. I am delighted to report that there were only ten players in the entire lot that chose the ace-showing response of two spades.

Frankly South's hand was made as typical as possible for a jump response of three no trump. I was very careful to give South no suit except the almost nonexistent club suit—four to the six spot. South's distribution was purposely put at 4-3-3-3, which is, of course, more adaptable for no trump than for suit play. I must admit that the two heart answers surprised me. It is possible that there still are many players who feel that a three card major suit can be named just as though it were of four cards or longer? I sincerely hope not!

TODAY'S HAND

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

SOUTH
♠ A J 3 2
♥ 9 7 4 3

♣ A 10

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

South's spade bid was extremely light, based as it was on only a four card suit, and he would have had great difficulty in finding a correct rebid if North had responded with either two diamonds or two clubs. As it happened, however, North did not have even enough values to keep the bidding open, and when both opponents passed (West because he was trapping and East because he was afraid to reopen) one spade became the final contract.

The defence was excellent and proved the importance of watching the drop of intermediate cards. West decided to attack the trump suit immediately, since to do so would not jeopardize his two trump tricks. He opened the spade four. After long thought declarer played dummy's seven and took East's eight with the jack. A low heart was led toward dummy. West hopped up with the ace and, when the eight spot fell from East's hand, continued with a low heart, the five spot. Dummy's king was played and promptly ruffed by East with the spade six. The club queen was East's return. Declarer won and, for want of a better play, exited with the club ten. West ducked and East won with the jack. West had failed to echo on the two leads of clubs, hence East knew that he did not favor the continuation of that suit. Acting on the line of defence implied by West's choice of opening lead, East now led back his remaining spade, the nine spot. South ducked, but West deliberately overtook with the queen. West had carefully noted the fall of every spade from the jack to the six and knew at this point that he could safely overtake the nine and continue with the king. Declarer's ace was driven out and, when West later regained the lead, he drew declarer's last trump and cashed good tricks, holding the contract to a total of three tricks—the spade ace and jack and the club ace.

WORLD POLITICS SUBJECT OF TALK

W. B. Caird, of C.C.F., Addresses Public Meeting on International And National Affairs

W. B. Caird, C.C.F. speaker, analyzed world conditions and explained the C.C.F. position in Canadian politics and international affairs to a capacity audience in the English Bakery Hall, Monday night.

"Canada's Foreign Policy," he declared, "was shaped by the munition makers and the financiers of St. James Street. Because of Canada's key position as to the manufacture of war materials," he continued, "the 'economic royalists' are determined to keep Canada tied to the British foreign policy and the present 'system,' regardless of disastrous consequences to the Canadian nation."

Mr. Caird explained the development of the Rooseveltian economic policies and their influences on the economic and political life of this country.

He maintained that Roosevelt's fight with the power trusts had extended into Canada. This explained Canada's refusal to sell power to the United States. It was from this "power fight" that the battle of Hepburn and Duplessis against Premier King had arisen, and that Hepburn was used by the American power companies to block the Roosevelt St. Lawrence waterway scheme was no secret, he asserted. "Only by the institution of a co-operative commonwealth could the people of Canada free themselves from the 'clutches of capitalism' and give rise to a real development of the better things that they were capable of," he concluded. Community singing and refreshments, followed by a dance, rounded off this monthly get-together.

TO AMEND FUEL OIL ACT

EDMONTON, Feb. 22 (CP). — Amendment to the Fuel Oil Tax Act to require payment of the tax at the port of entry when fuel oils are brought in from the United States was introduced in the Alberta Legislature yesterday by Hon. E. C. Manning, Minister of Trade and Industries.

TRUE STORY!

They jeered when I went to the oven — They laughed when I said I could bake —

I opened the door — and they're shovin' For a slice of my Swans Down Cake!

THAT'S the verdict of any jury of home bakers or cake eaters on cakes made the Swans Down way. It doesn't matter whether you're a hopeless novice or an expert grandmother with two generations of praise behind your baking—not if you use Swans Down Cake Flour! If you just make sure to follow the directions, Swans Down Cake Flour guarantees success in your baking.

Swans Down is a special type of flour made expressly for fine baking and perfect cake texture. It is specially milled from selected Canadian soft winter wheat, ground and re ground, sifted and re-sifted through silk until it's 27 times as fine as ordinary flour! If you want all of your cakes in the future to have that smooth "velvety crumb" which marks the finished products of an expert cake-maker, be sure that you ask your grocer for Swans Down Cake Flour. It's economical, too, because it saves on other ingredients, and assures you of successful cakes.

MURDER CASE NEXT MONDAY

R. A. Wright, Negro Carpenter, Is Remanded in Esquimalt Police Court

Charged that on or about January 27 in Esquimalt he did murder Dulcie Track, otherwise Dulcie M. Hanham, R. A. Wright appeared in Esquimalt police court before Magistrate Henry C. Hall at 9:45 o'clock yesterday morning and was remanded until 10:30 o'clock Monday morning.

Mrs. Hanham was found dead on Colville Road extension early on the morning of January 28 with her throat slashed and her skull hacked open. Wright, who is a negro carpenter, was found off Tyee Road on the afternoon of January 30 with cuts on his wrists and throat. He was taken to the Jubilee Hospital and released last Monday morning.

Wright appeared pale in the prisoner's dock, and staggered slightly when he came from the cells. He wore a long overcoat buttoned up to his neck.

G. H. Sedger, representing Esquimalt, stated he was not ready to proceed. He also thought there should be an adjournment in order that the accused might secure counsel. Magistrate Hall accordingly fixed the preliminary trial for Monday.

In answer to a question from the magistrate, the accused replied: "I am not represented, Your Honor."

Programme of Merit Enjoyed

Fairfield United Church furnished the Twilight Recital programme given at the First Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon, when Rev. Norman J. Crees announced the numbers. Among the most beautiful by the choir were Sir Hugh Robertson's "All in the April Evening," Bach's "For the Beauty of the Earth," "Pilgrims of the Night" (Parker), "The Lord Is My Shepherd" (Smart) and "Hearken Unto Me My People" (Sullivan). The choir showed very good tone, particularly in the softer passages, and generally the choral effects were artistic.

Of the other numbers, the duet, "Love Divine All Love Excelling" (Stainer), sung by Miss Isobel Pike and R. Husband; the ladies' trio, "Lift Thine Eyes"; Miss Catherine Denison's singing of "Consider and Hear Me"; the quartette, "God Is a Spirit" (Bennett), and Cyril Warren's organ offering, "Andante Religioso" (Thome) were particularly pleasing. Miss Denison's singing was quite outstanding in its sincerity and feeling.

CHAPTER XVI

Something pressed against Laura's heart as she pushed the phone away. Andy she knew, wouldn't turn up.

A tall figure stood in the open door. Laura looked up and saw Andy there. His dark eyes enveloped her in a gentle embrace as if nothing had changed.

"May I come in, Laurie?"

Laura laughed, trying to cover her confusion. "You don't usually require an invitation," she said. "I go on the air in five minutes, but those five are yours."

He came in and sat down. "Five minutes is more than I need," he said. "In fact, you can go right on with your work and pretend I'm not around because—I just want to sit here and look at you."

"Sweet," she smiled, and waited for him to go on from there. But Andy said nothing more and presently the silence began to pull at her nerves. She said, abruptly, "You're making it all very difficult for me, Andy. Why are you behaving like this?"

"Laurie . . ." He leaned forward and rested his arms on the leaf of the desk. "Honey, you can't get away with this. Because I won't let you. I don't have to tell you it doesn't even make sense to me, do I?" He went on before she could answer. "Devotion and sacrifice I can understand; but devotion without honesty and sacrifice without purpose are the sort of contradictions a warped mind would try to justify. I'm not trying to be disagreeable, Laurie," he said quickly, seeing the color rise in her face. "I'm trying to make you see the truth before you've gone too far with this madness to turn back."

Laura thought, He's right — but what can I do do? I can't kill my own sister . . .!"

She might have been thinking aloud, for Andy said in the same even quiet voice, "You know, Laurie, Nina's heart condition has gotten to be an obsession with you. You've thought about it so much and lived in fear for so long because of it that you're no longer capable of rational thinking where she's concerned. You've persuaded yourself that any emotional shock will prove fatal."

She was afraid of that, too, of course; but a greater fear had its foundation in her conviction that Nina, hurled back into one of her dark moods by a serious disappointment, would deliberately end her life. But she could not tell him that—could not, in fact, offer any comment whatever which would recognize the truth of what he said. For to concede any single point of his argument was to confess that she was still in love with him and that the painfully difficult part she was playing was inspired by the hope that by some means she might force him into a conspiracy to give Nina what she wanted.

"In the first place," said Andy, earnestly, "Nina is not the invalid you make her out. She belongs to a generation that takes its shocks on the padded side and comes up smiling and eager for another try. But there's something else about Nina you haven't considered. She's a girl of surface emotions. I've never seen anything hit her very hard and I can tell you now that this business of being in love will be ancient history with Nina before the Summer's out."

There was angry denial in Laura's eyes, but she kept her lips tightly closed.

"I tell you it's just another mood," Andy declared with feeling, "and it will pass like all the others. I'm not asking you if you believe that. Very likely you don't. But it's true. I know it's true." Something almost imperceptible happened to his face then and a new, challenging note was in his voice when he said, "I'm so sure of it that I've come here to tell you I'm going to play your insane little game, Laurie — the way you want it played." He reached and pulled the telephone to him and began to dial, slowly; and against her will, Laura spoke.

"What are you doing, Andy?" Sharply.

"Starting now, this minute," Andy said, quietly. "I'm going to be the ardent lover to the kid sister of the girl I love." His gaze came up, briefly. "And God help us if she doesn't snap out of it before all our lives are ruined," he finished, flatly.

Angry and ashamed and sickened, Laura thought, frantically I won't let him do it . . . I won't let him make a fool of Nina!

But this was what she had wanted, this was what she had been going to no end of pains to bring about. Only—

Andy was no longer looking at her. He was bent over the telephone and as Laura moved blindly toward the door, his voice, soft and convincingly sweet, followed her and became a steady, insidious hiss sing in her ears as she faced the microphone:

"Nina? . . . Hello, darling I've been tied up all day, but I'm free at last. Get your glad rags on, honey; we're going places."

That Body of Yours

FEWER OPERATIONS NOW FOR SINUS TROUBLE

A few years ago there were many operations for sinus trouble — the little hollows or caverns adjoining the nose. These sinuses are called the sounding box of the voice. Thus when a head cold is present and these little sinuses get filled with mucous, the voice sounds flat and "ing" sounds like "ick," the expression "Good Mordick" instead of "Good Morning" being the usual illustration.

When these head colds become very common and the mucous and sometimes pus was too thick to drain out, the enlarging of the opening was frequently done by nose surgeons to enable this mucous and pus to drain out. The enlarged opening also helped to "ventilate" the sinus, thus keeping its lining of mucous membrane in a more healthy condition. This lining, mucous membrane, like the lining of the nose, helps to warm and moisten the outside air on its way down to the lungs.

Unfortunately, these openings from the sinus into the nose are not placed in the best position for drainage when we are standing or sitting, but as Dr. Louis M. Pearlman states in Hygeia, the different positions one naturally takes when lying down are favorable to the emptying of the sinus. "When one lies on the left side, the right antrum (sinus in cheek bone) is emptied; when one lies on the right side, the left antrum is emptied, and when one lies face downward, the sinuses at upper and back part of the nose (level with the eyes) are emptied. This is one of the reasons why rest in bed is an excellent way to treat a severe cold in the head. Frequent colds are the most common cause of chronic infections of the sinuses."

However, it has been found that in many cases, operation is of no help and may leave the patient in the same condition as before the operation and with some loss of smell.

Dr. Pearlman states further:

"The present trend of treatment is tracing the trouble to its source and getting rid of it before the condition becomes chronic. Stress is laid on increasing the resistance of the individual and performing only slight operations to increase ventilation and drainage."

Eating less meat and table salt, and eating more fruit and vegetables seems to help a number of these chronic sinus cases.

How Women in Their 40's Can Attract Men

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 38 to 52), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worries about hot flashes, loss of pep, dizzy spells, upset nerves and moody spells.

Just get more fresh air, 8 hrs. sleep and if you need a reliable "WOMAN'S" tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vivacity to enjoy life and assist calming jittery nerves and those disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life.

Pinkham's a WELL WORTH trying.

TWO OF A KIND

The automobile was a thing unheard of to a mountaineer in an unfrequented community, and he was astounded one day when he saw one go by without any visible means of locomotion. His eyes bulged, however, when a motorcycle followed closely in its wake and disappeared like a flash around a bend in the road.

"Great guns!" he said, turning to his son. "Who'd 'a' s'posed that thing had a colt."
